On a dark and ruin - ed world ; Truth's bright beams break forth with splen - dor,

List'ning to the cheer - ing strains, Now their free - dom is ef - fect - ed,
In un - cloud - ed lus - tre shine, With the gos - pel's bright-ness blend - ing,

Truth's bright beams break forth with splendor, Darkness from his throne is hurl'd.

Darkness from his throne is hurl'd, Dark ness from his throne is hurl'd.

Cast ing off their slavish chains, Cast ing off their sla - vish chains.
Light our way to bliss di - vine, Light our way to bliss di - vine.

CHANT.

Questions by the Choir. Answers, Single Voice. TREBLE, Amen.

{ Speaker, A tell us of the night A What the signs of temperance are, Hearers, A see yon brilliant light A That is our tee - total star,
Speaker, A wont its beams decay, A And intemperance triumph yet, Hearers, A mark what God doth say A Never more what star shall set.

ALTO, Amen.

{ Speaker, A tell us of the night, A Upward yet that star as - cends, Hearers, A rum and oaths and fight A All their train approach their end
Speaker, A will the joy it gives, A Be confined to our blest land, Hearers, A while one drunkard lives A It will never stay its hand.

TENOR. TENOR, Amen.

{ Speaker, A tell us of the night, A For the light seems spreading on, Hearers, A rum is put to flight, A Revelling will soon be done.
Speaker, A join the work of peace, A Take the drunkard to his home, Hearers, A join in his release, A O what glorious times have come

BASS, Amen.

Amen to be sung at the close of last verse.
