

R. I. P.

On Friday afternoon, June 9th, Mr. Lowe was laid to rest. Long before the service began people had gathered in the Church to look for the last time on his face, and by three o'clock the Church was nearly full. "His coffin was borne by eight priests, who had known and loved him, up the aisle of St. George's Church, into the Chancel, where he had ministered so faithfully for three years. The service was conducted by the Clergy of St. George's, and many other priests came to show their respect for their brother who had gone. It was touching to see so many of the older Clergy present at the burial of a young priest. His body rests in St. James' Cemetery, beside the grave which contains the bodies of his father and mother, who have themselves been so recently called away."

Some beautiful wreaths and crosses were sent by members of his own Church in Calgary, and from friends here and from the ladies of his old Bible Class.
