Church of England Temperance Society.

The Secretary writes:—Now that considerable excitement and noise is being made over the social scheme work and general organisation of the Salvation Army, with a view probably to the raising of additional funds for that work, it seems an opportune moment to state that the work of this mission was commenced over twelve years ago, and although the progress was slow during the first eight years or so of its existence, it has during the last four years shown considerable vigour. There are forty-one missionaries employed by the society for work at the police-court and prison gate, and seven labour yards, in three of four of which homes are provided for the men employed, and these, with the necessary expenses, are kept within a total cost of about £5,000. Beside this the society has two permanent inebriate homes and three temporary shelter homes for women, and a special race-course and van mission, in addition to the ordinary temperance work of an educational and propagandist character. Let your readers compare the results as to men and funds with those published by General Booth, and I do not think that they will find the Church is idle; and if they will but consider that this is only the work of one of a number of Church societies (Church Army, &c.), which are labouring in the same direction, to say nothing of the relief and help afforded to the poor and outcast through the ordinary parochial organisations, they will no doubt come to the conclusion that the Church is in the van, and that those who talk most do not always work most. We shall not then, I hope, see the names of Churchmen and Churchwomen figuring so largely as subscribers to Salvation Army funds, whilst they are conspicuous by their absence from the subscription lists of Church societies, which are calling loudly for help to carry on and extend the work.—Family Churchman.

AN IMPORTANT WARNING

To the Editor of THE CHURCH GUARDIAN
DEAR SIR—The following paragraph, which recently appeared in the legal reports of the Toronto newspapers, is of vital importance to the people of Canada:

Q. B. AND C. P. DIVISIONS.
Before STREET, J.

FULFORD V. HOWE.—Howe, Q. C., for the plaintiff George Taylor Fulford, of the town of Brockville, druggist, moved for an injunction restraining the defendants, S. L. Howe and W. A. Howe, from selling pills in imitation of those sold by the plaintiff under the name of "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," and thereby infringing the plaintiff's trade mark for such pills registered under that name, which the plaintiff alleges, by reason of his extensive advertising, is well known throughout Canada. Judgment granted for a perpetual injunction.

An old adage has it that "imitation is the sincerest flattery," but when imitation takes the form of palming off upon the public worthless, perhaps positively harmful drugs, in imitation of a popular remedy, it is quite time the public is aroused to a sense of the injury done them. There is no other proprietary remedy in Canada today that approaches Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the esteem and confidence with which it is regarded by the people. And justly so, as this remedy has to its credit cures in cases where even the most eminent men in the ranks of medical science had pronounced the patients incurable. These cases have been thoroughly investigated by such leading newspapers as the Toronto Globe, Hamilton Times, Spectator and Herald, Halifax Herald, Detroit News, Albany Journal, Le Monde, Montreal, and others, and their accuracy vouched for. Thus Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have achieved a continental reputation, with the result that we find dealers here and there imposing upon the public by selling, in their stead, for the sake of extra profit, worthless imitations. These imitations are sometimes given names somewhat approaching the original, while in other cases the dealer, while not openly offering an imitation, imposes upon the customer by declaring that he can give him something "just as good." In still other cases Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are openly imitated in size, color and shape, and are sold in loose form by the dozen or hundred as the genuine Pink Pills. Against all these imitations the public should be constantly on their guard. There is absolutely no other pill, or no other remedy, that can take the place of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a nerve tonic and blood builder. To purchase any imitation, any substitute, or any remedy said to be "just as good" in a worse than useless expenditure of money. The public can protect themselves against all imitations of this great remedy if they will remember that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred. They are always put up in neat round boxes about two and a half inches in length, the wrapper around which is printed in red ink, and bears the trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." If offered to you in any other form depend upon it they are worthless imitations and should be rejected as such. If your dealer does not keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not let him persuade you to take any substitute he may say is "just as good." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had by mail, post, on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. or Morristown, N. Y.
