

be a free thinker than a slavish thinker. In other words, that is, in Scotland, generally, the state of things is far worse, I repeat, not on vague rumour, but from what I know existing at the present time, and for the accuracy of which I vouch and hold myself responsible. I challenge any one to contradict my assertion, when I say that at this moment, nearly all over Scotland, the finger of scorn is pointed at every man who, in the exercise of his sacred and inalienable right of free judgment, refuses to acquiesce in those religious notions, and to practise those religious customs, which time, indeed, has consecrated, but many of which are repulsive to the eye of reason, though to all of them, however irrational they may be, the people adhere with sullen and inflexible obstinacy. Knowing that these words will be widely read and circulated in Scotland, and aware as I naturally am to bring on myself the hostility of a nation, for whose many sterling and valuable qualities I entertain sincere respect, I do, nevertheless, deliberately affirm, that in no civilized country is toleration so little understood, and that in none is the spirit of bigotry and persecution so extensively diffused. Nor can any one wonder that such should be the case who observes what is going on there. The churches are as crowded as they were in the Middle Ages, and are filled with devout and ignorant worshippers, who flock together to listen to opinions of which the Middle Ages alone were worthy. Those opinions they treasure up, and when they return to their homes, or enter into the daily business of life, they put them in force. And the result is, that there runs through the entire country a sour and fanatic spirit, an aversion to innocent gaiety, a disposition to limit the enjoyments of others, and a love of enquiring into the opinions of others, and interfering with them, such as is hardly any where else to be found; while in the midst of all this, there flourishes a national creed, gloomy and austere to the last degree, a creed which is full of forebodings and threats and horrors of every sort, and which rejoices in proclaiming to mankind how wretched and miserable they are, how small a portion of them can be saved, and what an overwhelming majority is necessarily reserved for execrating, unspeakable and eternal agony.—Buckle's Civilization.

UNITED STATES.—There is a good deal of speculation as to what ought to be done with the crew captured on board the privateerman Savannah. According to the law as it stands the offence of these men is piracy, and the penalty death. They will, of course, have a fair trial, and be furnished, if they need it, with the means of defence. As they were taken flagrant delicto, there can be no doubt as to what verdict and sentence in their case will be. It is not probable, however, that the latter will be carried out. The civilisation of an enlightened and progressive community like ours will be averse to the enforcement of the barbarous code which, in past times, would have subjected them to the forfeiture of their lives. Great as are the provocations that are being given us, we will not allow ourselves to be dragged down to the level of the ferocious passions which, in the seceded States, doom Northern men to death on no other evidence than suspicion. It will be reasoned, and justly that while the arch traitors under whose authority they have been acting are at large and unpunished, it would not be tight to proceed to such extremities against men whose ignorance and incapability of comprehending the legal merits of the question may have betrayed them into their present offence. The punishment administered by General Prentiss to the Kentucky rebels is perhaps the most judicious that can be resorted to in their case. They can be set to wheel dirt or to be otherwise employed on the public works while the war lasts. At its close means will no doubt be found by government to dispose of the prisoners that will have thus accumulated on its hands. Once it gets hold of the instigators and leaders of the rebellion, it will not be disposed to be severe with those who have been merely their instruments and dupes.—N. Y. Herald.

THE PRIVATERS—HANG THEM IF YOU DARE.—It is confidently rumored that the crew of the Savannah, which lately sailed from this port, are now prisoners on the Wabash, Capt. Mercer, and are threatened with summary punishment. With all our experience of the treachery and cruelty of Lincoln and his despotic horde of underlings and scoundrels, we cannot believe that Com. Stringham, Capt. Mercer, or others of the United States Navy, who have been recognized as gentlemen and as officers in honorable service, can descend to such cruelty and unpardonable outrage. The rights and privileges of privateering have been maintained and asserted by the United States, and the separate and distinct existence of the Confederate States as a political power has been also practically recognized, in many ways, by the Lincoln States. From the outset of the controversy the Southern States have been scrupulously exact in recognizing the courtesies and civilities of war.

Robert Anderson, who began the war, as a subordinate against pledges and promises, was treated for weeks with more attention and courtesies than were bestowed on many of our own officers. When taken prisoner, he and his command were released with unusual honors. Gen. Harney was taken prisoner at Harper's Ferry, and was released with honor. Lieut.-Col. Morris, United States Army, has been twice or thrice arrested on good grounds, and yet has been discharged. Many prisoners were taken in Texas, and were honorably released.

We need not multiply instances to prove that the South, if compelled to defend her rights by war, has preserved an honorable war, modified by all the limitations and amenities of modern war among Christian and civilized nations. Even the outrages and bestial excesses perpetrated by the blackguards who have been turned loose on Virginia have not provoked retaliation. This forbearance must soon find a limit if the threats above referred to are executed.—We now have the means of war and our own efforts will soon give us ample opportunities. Every citizen of a Lincoln State that is or falls within our reach will be a subject of retaliation. The property of all such citizens, situated within the Confederate States, will also be deemed subject to confiscation. We deprecate the necessity or occasion for such proceedings; but if the enemy give this tone and color to the war, we must leave the case to the judgment of the world, and use all the means of defence, retaliation and reprisals in our power. It will, perhaps, make the war more terrible, but more decisive and less protracted. It cannot make the South more determined on resistance and final separation.—It may, however, prevent, even after war, a long course of peace, the growth and re-establishment of peaceful relations of commerce and social intercourse between North and South.—We warn the foe in time, and we devoutly trust the warning will be heeded. If the motto and rule of savage and heathen warfare are established by the United States, no prisoners will be taken, or kept alive under that hateful flag. We can erect the gallows or the gibbet as well as others.—Charleston Mercury, June 13.

AN "ACCIDENT" AND A "MISFORTUNE."—The Leeds Mercury's London correspondent says—"The latest joke, not to be found in Punch, but heard at the clubs, is said to come from the 'other side of the Channel, though perhaps of home manufacture, and not unworthy of Sir Robert in his merry mood.—Here it is. The Prince Imperial and the Emperor were in discussion about 'educational' subjects, and from both books had got to synonyms and equivalents of words, when the juvenile Imperial asked his parent to explain to him the difference between the words 'accident' and 'misfortune,' which have certainly a little closer affinity in French than English, and seem to require a little elucidation. After a pause for an illustration, his Majesty said—"I will tell you, my boy, the exact difference. It would be an accident if your cousin, Prince Napoleon, were to tumble into the Seine; but it would be a misfortune if any one were to help him out again."

HIPPOTAMUS From the Royal Zoological Gardens, London, this rare and wonderful specimen of Natural History having been purchased by G. C. Quick, Esq., and brought to this country at an expense of over THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS. It is the first and only specimen of its kind which has ever been exhibited in America, and is the only one seen in Europe since A. D. 318. It was captured in Nubia, on the Nile, a distance of over fifteen hundred miles above Cairo, by order of Abba Pasha, Viceroy of Egypt, and presented to the British Zoological Society, where he monopolized public attention for a long time, and achieved a reputation for himself and the Society which has reached to most remote nooks of the civilized world. The number of visitors to the Zoological Gardens during the first year of the exhibition in London amounted to 360,402, being an excess of 291,507 persons over any preceding year. The preparations for the reception of this ROYAL MONSTER in Montreal have been made upon the most extensive scale.

AN ENORMOUS TANK has been provided in order that the public may have an opportunity of witnessing the sportive gambols of the huge beast in his favorite element. He is at all times under the charge of his keeper Salaama, who has had the care of him from the hour of his capture, and for whom "Buechet," or "Lucky Dog," as the animal has been named, evinces much affectionate attachment. The Zoological Gardens will be opened for the exhibition of the Hippopotamus on MONDAY next, and continue open every day and evening until further notice. Cards of Admission 25 Cents. Children under ten years half price. June 6.

DIPHTHERIA.

We are informed that a sure specific for that DREADFUL DISEASE, DIPHTHERIA and sore throat, now prevailing to such an alarming extent, is Perry Davis' Pain Killer. It is used as a gargle to the throat, mixed with water—two parts water and one Pain Killer. It will quickly cure the disease, and never fail, if applied in time. As soon as the throat shows any signs of soreness, gargle with Pain Killer as above prescribed, and in bad cases, use it freely to bathe the neck. This should be made known to the world, and we advise every one afflicted to give it one trial. It is sold by medicine dealers generally. Read what Dr. Walker writes us from Coshocton, Ohio: "I am happy to inform you that the PAIN KILLER cures this new disease, Diphtheria or Sore Throat, that is prevailing to so alarming an extent in this section of the country." On Walnut Creek, Holmes County, they use scarcely any other remedy; and it has never been known to fail in a single instance when used in time. This fact should be made known to the world.

CARD OF THANKS. H. BRENNAN would respectfully return thanks to his friends and the public generally for their liberal patronage during the past three years and hopes to merit a continuance of the same. He has also to inform them that he intends to REMOVE to the East wing of the shop at present occupied by D. & J. Sadler, corner of Notre Dame and St. Francois Xavier streets, where he will manufacture Boots and Shoes of the best material and to order as heretofore.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. No medicine is more prompt in its action in cases of Cholera, Cholera Morbus, &c., than Perry Davis' Pain Killer. It is the acknowledged antidote which seldom fails if applied in its early symptoms. No family should be without a bottle of it always on hand.

The stain on linen from the use of the Pain Killer is easily removed by washing it in alcohol. Davis' Pain Killer seems particularly efficacious in cholera morbus, bowel complaints, and other diseases to which the natives of Burmah, from their unwholesome style of living, are peculiarly exposed. It is a valuable antidote to the poison of Centipedes, Scorpions, hornets, &c.
