

sense of those who have been entrusted with the representation of this important part of Britain's Possessions. There are few parts of the building, where visitors, who like to see the result of self-reliant industry, and the marks of indomitable courage in mining and agricultural operations, will spend their time more agreeably than at the Canadian stand."

All which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN BEATTY, M.D.,

Toronto, Jan. 29, 1867.

President.
