After a continued and economical completion of the many improveire from midnight of November 1st to daybreak | ments still required in your Ward. of the 3rd, the Turkish ammunition became exprevious portion of the year entailed upon hausted—and with the wild cries of the Moslem warfare, the entire Turkish force charged the enemy with bayonet and sabre, and scattered them at all points! The Russians left twelve hundred on the field in killed and wounded, and were driven back upon Bucharest, where a heavy fire from the artillery of the place brought up The river St. Lawrence on the 25th ult. was not filled with ice as to draw the ships from their the pursuing Turks, and they returned to Oltenitza and encamped upon the field, their first care being to fortify the position. The battle was fought within a triangle of land formed by the waters of the Argis and Danube. Only 9,000 Turks were engaged, but they had occupied a strong quarantine building, and an old redoub situated in the plain near the Danube, as well From this position they threw as the village. From this position they threw shot and shell with great effect up to the very entrance of a village whence General Daunen berg was directing the attack. A telegraphic dispatch sent to the French Government, and immediately (on the 13th instant) communica-ted to the Turkish Minister at Paris, says that the Russians twice drove the Turks from their position, but that on the third day (by this dis patch called Nov. 4) the Turks dispersed the Russians with the loss above stated. The Russian loss in officers was particularly severe, the enemy's marksmen having apparently endeavored to pick off as many as they could. It is particularly noticed that the disabled officers are al most without exception wounded by the conical balls of the chasseur regiments, organized on the model of the celebrated French chasseurs of Vincennes. The Turkish artillery were beautifully served. The Russians, too, stood manfully to their arms, and the affair had all the feature of a pitched battle. Omer Pacha did not command in person.—The position of Oltenitza. is very strong; the left wing of the Turks being protected by the river Argis, (Ardrisch,) the right by a swamp impassable to horse, and the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the fortress of Silistria, and the foot of the rear by the rear by the foot of the rear by the rear by the foot of the rear by Turkai. The gunners in Turkai fired with such precision during the battle, that the shots, passing over the heads of the Turks, did great execution among the Russians.
