When duly completed, these forms should be forwarded to the Department of External Affairs under cover of a note. The licences will be issued, after payment of the usual fee, in the name of the Government of the country concerned represented by that country's head of post followed by the address at which the wireless radio transmitters will be operated. The act of applying for a licence by a Mission will be considered by the Canadian Government to imply the acceptance by the Mission and its government of the conditions set out here.

Form 16-113 contained in the pertinent information pamphlet should be filled for (CB radio) general radio service.

Missions may, if they so wish, communicate directly with the Director, Operations Branch, Telecommunication Regulatory Service of the Department of Communications, concerning technical questions that may arise concerning wireless radio transmitters (tel. 995-3141).

(ii) Mobile Telephones and Radio Stations

Authorization must be requested from the Department of External Affairs for the installation and operation by Missions and their staff of all mobile telephones and other mobile radio stations. Form 16-21 should first be obtained from the above address, filled by Bell Canada and sent under cover of a note to the Department of External Affairs requesting authorization.

(f) Firearms

All members of a mission are expected to comply with the requirements of Canadian laws and regulations governing the possession and registration of firearms. Under Canadian law possession of certain types of firearms is prohibited. Other types of firearms must be registered.

The procedure for the registration which is applicable to every resident of Canada, or traveller in Canada, is as follows: if brought through customs, the firearms must be left there; a detailed description of the firearms should be taken to the local Police Station (60 Waller Street in Ottawa or 350 Springfield Road in Rockcliffe Park) where a temporary permit will be issued. The purpose of this document is to allow the owner to carry the firearms in question to the Police Station for proper registration so that a permanent permit may be issued several days later. Once registered they may be kept in the owner's dwelling or place of business.
