Collection Canada Products was formed in 1985 to manufacture a wide range of appealing acrylic gift and housewares. Our line, designed by Andre Morin, has won the Design Canada Award for its excellence. Eye-pleasing items manufactured by Collection Canada Products include trays, pitchers, canisters, butter dishes, salt and pepper shakers, beverage ware and salad sets.

Our line is distinctive not only because of its exclusive design features, but also as a result of the high density acrylic material used. Our clear high density acrylic is much sturdier than the materials commonly found in other products, and is far more resistant to abuse. Our coloured products are guaranteed not to discolour from continued use or exposure to sunlight.

Strong, fashionable and designed with the greatest attention to detail, Collection Canada Products are the finest acrylics made for the kitchen and home furnishings market.

Exclusive designs and quality materials result in full range of attractive acrylic gift and housewares.

College Grant Pottery Ltd.

Contact: Brian Segal,
President

College Grant Pottery has been manufacturing completely handcrafted porcelain wares for use in the home, since it entered business in 1975. Our products are both functional and decorative, making them appealing additions to the decor of any residence. We also custom craft various corporate gift items. Particularly well received are unique beer steins bearing embossed corporate logos.

Our pottery has earned several distinguished awards. In addition, it is well represented in many prestigious collections, both public and private.

College Grant Pottery reflects the skilled work of studio potters, Brian G. Segal and Julia Redgrave. Our attractive glazes and distinctive surface designs, featuring Brian Segal's brushwork, are factors which contribute strongly to our success. College Grant's products are supplied to better shops and galleries across Canada.
