
ROYAL CANADIAN MINT

The Royal Canadian Mint contributed to Canada's ODA in 2017-2018 through the donation of computers to schools in the Dominican Republic and the Philippines via the World Computer Exchange.

CANADIAN INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY OFFICE

The ODA contribution of the Canadian Intellectual Property Office consists primarily of technical assistance for developing countries. This assistance is provided through two channels: an annual workshop on intellectual property services, and research reports for patent requests.

CANADIAN MUSEUM OF NATURE

The Canadian Museum of Nature is a scientific and educational institution that helps Canadians and others connect with the natural world. The museum's ODA activities consist of its institutional contribution as a member of the International Union for Conservation of Nature. The union has a global program of activities that contributes to habitat conservation, ecological integrity and the conservation of biological diversity. Their activities emphasize the engagement of youth and the importance of gender equality and the empowerment of women.