T.E.L. HOLDS UP SUIT
Commission and City Experts to Inspect Light Company's Assets.

"That is quite correct," said General Manager Macrae of the Toronto Electric Light Co. when asked by The World last night if the statement of claim against the city was being withheld pending the negotiations with the city.

The statement of claim has been filed by the company at Osgoode Hall, but by orders of the solicitors for the company is kept from public view in consequence of the negotiations.

Mr. Macrae also said that he yesterday had a conference with Mr. Drayton.

Mr. Drayton stated after the conference with Mr. Macrae that the company had never consented to an inspection and valuation of the physical assets of the company by the hydro-electric power commission and the City of Toronto engineers.

"This will take considerable time," said Mr. Drayton.

The hydro-electric commission representatives will probably be Mr. Ross, C.E., Montreal, and the city by Alex. Dow of Detroit.

Cochrane Liquor Cases.

Never tampered with the milk. The case was adjourned to next week. There were no previous cases in the matter. The magistrates will decide the case on Friday.

Louis Hevi arrived before Magistrate Kinsford that although the civil twelve limits the speed of autos to 10 miles an hour, there were no previous cases in the matter. The magistrates will decide the case on Friday.

The Handkerchief Came From Italy.
LONDON Globe: A writer in a French review points out that the handkerchief does not come to us from China, as has been generally believed, but from Italy. It is only 300 years ago that the handkerchief of a Venetian lady was considered a great curiosity. The handkerchief crossed the Alps and was received with great favor at the court of France.

Handkerchiefs were then made of cambric or lawn and bordered with Venetian or Aeneas lace. Under Henry III of France the sachet was introduced. The handkerchief was taken into the "fazelette" after its Italian name. Only persons of quality used it and an edict in 1595 was published at Dresden interdicting the use of the handkerchiefs among the trading classes.
