

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

Some of the local hockey devotees and players should analyze themselves to determine whether they are standing on their heads or on their heels. At hand, it was the old, old cry: "Give us ice, and we'll show you how to set up a hockey league." Then, when ice was assured by the management of the Jubilee Rink, there was one grand rush to get into the center of the arena before the other fellow got to be "Johnny on the spot." Out of the mess, one could hear such howls as "O. H. A. for mine!" "Rouse mit him—give us a City League!" "Lemons, lemons, an East End League will make 'em all fade away!" etc., etc. Consequence: Everybody working at cross purposes; the man behind the ice up in the air (figuratively speaking); St. Thomas, Paris, and other dust specks on the map laughing up their sleeves at London's indecision. No results.

"Billy" Bell, chief pilot of the Forest City tenpin artists, is wearing a funeral expression today. Need you ask why? The cruel Hogtown pin knockers trimmed up our pets by nearly 300 points at Toronto. Friday always was an unlucky day for local sportsmen.

Poor old Varsity! The tale is short, bitter and sad: McGill 18, Varsity 17.

The rabbit-foot kids, alias Hamilton Cubs, were handed another game Saturday by the Argos, late of Toronto, now of the tall and lofty wood-stuff. Finish: Cubs 25, Also Rams 7. Poor old Hogtown!

Did you hear the crash Saturday? Mr. Blue Yale, of New Haven, Conn., swung a touchdown and a convert against old Harvard's broadsides, and the man with the paint pot chalked up: Yale 6, Harvard 0.

Everything in the vicinity of West Point, Uncle Sammy's soldier garden, is draped today. Even the barrack's cook looks sour as he mixes the dough, and the kitchen cat hides its head in shame. Yes, all is sad and dark and gloomy in ye young warriors' school—Saturday's awful tale: Syracuse 4, Uncle Sam's Pets 0.

Billy Nolan, proprietor and sole manager of that great little lightweight meal-ticket-one, Bat Nelson, bumped into the wrong kind of an argument when he met Tex Rickard (not of Missouri), of Nevada, in a financial argument. The decision was handed to the man from the gold fields pro tem, and Mr. Nolan adorned the inside of a police station cell until he procured bail. The "defigely" seems to be a mere trifle of $6,000, which the man from the wild and woolly alleges Nolan absently neglected to turn in to the Gans-Nelson fight picture company. These certainly be strenuous times in punching circles. SOUTHPAW.

Yale's Bulldog Warriors Get Away With Harvard

Old Eli's Gridiron Eleven Outplayed Crimson in Nearly Every Respect.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 24. — Outplayed in practically every respect Harvard's much vaunted football eleven was conquered by Yale here this afternoon by a score of 6 to 0. These figures don't indicate the superiority shown by the New Haven team, which sprung an even greater surprise than the one to which Princeton was subjected a week ago.

Harvard came to the gridiron confident and in splendid physical condition. With several stars in her eleven the Crimson had thousands of followers on hand ready to go wild with delight in the event of success, but before the game had lasted fifteen minutes Harvard's hopes were flagging to a disheartening degree.

With some little ill feeling between the rival universities because of Harvard's dictatorial action in regard to the appointment of the officials, the Yale men went into the struggle determined to wipe the Cambridge experts off the map. And from practically the first whiff of the whistle the Blue warriors made the fur fly in royal fashion.

In general play Yale was easily the master. With the exception of Burr's long punts, Yale excelled in everything.

In forward passes there were few mistakes and several big gains. With the inside kick the New Haven men made Harvard look cheap. In plunging through the Crimson defense the fact was made plain that Yale had the greater strength, which, coupled with over-increasing skill, carried the day. Yale's team play was magnificent. The eleven worked like a perfect piece of mechanism. Every man knew what was required of him, and as the spectacular plays were reeled off successfully Harvard, dismayed and discouraged, was driven back into the stouth of defeat. By quick thinking and a knowledge of Harvard's weak points Yale swept on to victory in such an impressive manner that before the second half began there were few persons in the Crimson multitude who believed that Captain Foster's men had a chance to win.

But for an unfortunate miff of a forward pass by Alcott, Yale would have scored another touchdown, and probably a goal. But this blunder was quickly made up by the same player, who gathered in another forward pass of the same quality almost in the same spot, which was the direct cause for Yale's score.

The nearest Harvard approached to the Yale goal posts was the seventeen-yard mark, and this advance occurred at the very outset of the game, but when Quarterback Newhall of Harvard tried to kick a goal from the field, his protection was so poor that the ball was blocked.

MISS WILKS WAS WELL UP IN LIST

Galt Horsewoman Won Several Blue Ribbons at New York Horse Show.

New York, Nov. 25.—The annual exhibition of the National Horse Show Association at Madison Square Garden came to an end last night, after the most successful display in the history of the organization.

The attendance was large both in the afternoon and at night. A number of army officers and their wives and more than a hundred cadets from West Point were at the show today.

There was great enthusiasm tonight, when every display of clever riding or jumping was cheered. The demonstration over Forest King when he came out to win the National Horse Show Association cup was a feature.

After a keen competition, which had been going on the whole week, Alfred G. Vanderbilt came off winner of the greatest number of blue ribbons during the show. His total was twelve. Judge William H. Moore, his rival, won eleven, but the latter is ahead in a monetary way, due to the three valuable cups won by Forest King. Judge Moore also has seven red ribbons to his credit to three won by Mr. Vanderbilt.

J. W. Harriman, of this city, takes third place in the list of principal winners, having seven blue ribbons and five seconds, and he is closely followed by Eben D. Jordan, of Plymouth, Mass., with six firsts and three seconds. The other blue ribbon winners in their order were: C. W. Watson, Baltimore, Md.; and Mrs. Julian Morris, Westwick, Va., five each; E. T. Stotesbury, Chestnut Hill, Pa.; Horatio N. Bain, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; W. R. Murray (agent), Canastota, N. Y.; Miss K. L. Wilks, Galt, Ont.; Graham Bros., Claremont, Ont.; Elsinore Farm, Glen Cove, L. I.; and Cdr. Bros. New York City, three each; Reginald Vanderbilt, South Portsmouth, R. I.; and Mrs. John Gerken, Gravesend, L. I., two each.

WRESTLING.

PARDELLO LOST TO GOTCH.
Chicago, Nov. 24.—Frank Gotch, of Iowa, last night defeated Leo Pardello, of New York, in a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match, winning two straight falls. During the first fall, which Gotch won in 30 minutes and 11 seconds, with toe and arm hold, Pardello was injured so badly that he was unable to leave the ring for several minutes. A physician declared the Italian had suffered a strain of the right leg. It took Gotch 14 seconds to win the second fall and the match.

Opportunity May Knock at the Door But Once in a Lifetime. The Wise Are Ready To Grasp it.

No one maintains more stoutly than we the truth of this proposition, Clothes do not make the man. Yet that does not deter us from maintaining just as stoutly this other proposition. Good appearance is the master-key that has unlocked the door of opportunity to many a brilliant future.

$7.50 to $25

Cost is no longer a barrier to good appearance. The number of men who give allegiance to the expensive to-order tailor is infinitely smaller today than it was even two years ago.

The revolution has been far-reaching and beneficent. Clothing of faultless designing and the highest craftsmanship, with a third, mayhap even a half, of the "exclusive" price clipped off.

Grafton Suits.....$8.50 to $25
Grafton Overcoats.....$7.50 to $25
Grafton Fur-Lined Overcoats.....$40 to $75
Grafton Fur Coats.....$12.50 to $40

A Grafton-made garment at twenty dollars needs no defending. But does your knowledge go so far as this—that Grafton-made Suits and Overcoats at the more modest prices—even ten, twelve and fifteen dollars, are cut over the same patterns and fashioned over the same models as our garments at eighteen, twenty and twenty-five dollars.

Men's "Karlton" and Christy Derbys at $2.50 and $3.50

We present the "Karlton" in three different shapes, the "Herald Square" for young men and the "Prince of Wales" for men of more sober tastes; both, of course, in several proportions.

The Christy Derbys are ready in the correct fall and winter shapes at $3.50. We would lay especial emphasis upon the lightweight, self-conforming Christys at three-fifty, because they represent as much hat comfort as any man could ask for.

The Very Newest in Men's Hats at $2

During the last few days we have received several cases of the new shapes in Derbys.

They are two dollars, the nattiest two-dollar hats you ever saw. We are confident, too, that they are the best $2 hats you ever saw, for if you would compare them with other hats you must take their $3 kinds. We've got them in the slightly curled brim, the medium flat-set brim and the extreme flat brim for $2.00.
