KING HONORS PAGETS

Courtesy Titles Bestowed on Brother and Sisters of Anglesey.

London, Aug. 15.—The London Gazette announced last night that the King had conferred the usual courtesy titles borne by the brothers and sisters of a peer on the brother and sisters of the present Marquis of Anglesey.

The present marquis is the cousin of the late marquis and the son of the late Lord Alexander Victor Paget, who was the brother of the fourth marquis.

The King now ordains that Lord Alexander's children shall bear the courtesy titles which they would have borne had he lived to succeed to the title of Marquis of Anglesey.

The persons thus honored are the Hon. Victor William Paget, a minor, Viscountess Ingestre, and Lady Herbert.

ONLY THOSE who have had experience can tell the torture corns cause. Pain with your boots on, pain with them off—pain night and day; but relief is sure to those who use Holloway's Corn Cure.

KAISER BUILDING BIGGER SHIPS

Not Heeding British Hint at Reduced Armament.

WHAT WILL COME OF MEETING

William and Edward Today Talk Over European Affairs—Peace Hovers Over Continent.

London, Aug. 15.—The British admiralty's slower construction of battleships and torpedo flotilla has not been considered by the German sea lords an example worthy of imitation. The Kaiser's new armored cruisers will have greater displacement than was originally planned, will carry heavier guns and be protected with double armor against torpedoes. Instead of relaxing efforts for building a powerful fleet, Germany is showing increased energy, and rivaling England in scientific methods and general efficiency. Her battleships will have greater engine power, so as to approach the speed of cruisers. Her armored cruisers will be strengthened in construction and armament and will be almost as powerful as the battleships. The building of a navy has been the Emperor's greatest work and he has not taken a serious view of the recent demonstration at Westminster in favor of the reduction of armaments. The meeting between the Emperor and King Edward this week has been desired by the Berlin foreign office but it is taken quietly enough by the well trained German press now that it has been arranged. In place of jubilant paeons over the great event there are formal expressions of confidence in the establishment of friendlier relations with England and boastful exhibits of the progress of German shipbuilding and the rapid accumulation of the resources of her power. The meeting of the sovereigns will be so short that there cannot be exhaustive stocktaking of the affairs of Europe.

Conditions, moreover, have seldom been more favorable for the continuance of the world's peace. The general strike in Russia has dribbled out, and the discipline of the army has been maintained, and there is a temporary lull, with a menace of drastic methods of repression if the insurrection breaks out in any quarter. There are signs of fresh rising in Morocco, which the special correspondents consider portentous and the proposals of the powers for the settlement of the Cretan questions are strenuously opposed by Greece. There have also been sensational headlines for the punitive measures adopted by the American Government for the protection of seal fisheries, but these have made little impression, since no Japanese capital is invested in the schooners raiding the breeding grounds, and the pirates are either American or Canadian skippers employing Japanese fishermen. There is indeed almost a dead calm in foreign affairs and King Edward and the German Emperor can talk over family affairs in peace and quiet. The Prime Minister has taken his invalid wife to Marienbad, and expects to remain there during the King's visit and not to return to Scotland until the third week in September. The ministers in the meanwhile are rallying in force on the Scottish moors. Mr. Asquith, Mr. Haldane and Lord Tweedmouth will spend a long holiday north, and others of their colleagues will follow them. The Prince of Wales shoots with the Duke of Devonshire at Bolton Priory next week, and will then head northward. The close of the animated Cowes season, which has been enlivened by the presence of the King and Queen of Spain, in addition to many English royalties, enables smart society to swarm to Scotland, where the demand for houses and shooting estates has been brisker han usual.

NEW POTATO DEVOLVED

Tastes Like a Blend of Asparagus and Turnips.

London, Aug. 15.—Vegetarians will doubtles hail with delight the advent of a new tuber, blue of skin and yellow of interior, which is about to be placed upon the market.

This new potato is known to the learned in such matters as the Salanum commersoni violet, and is the result of scientific cultivation by Messrs. Sutton, of Reading.

It has quite a distinct flavor of its own. Epicures describe it as a combined flavor of turnips and asparagus.

As a business "proposition," too, the growing of the new potato would undoubtedly prove a great success. The plant will thrive anywhere, the wetter or more marshy the soil the better. It is claimed that its productive power is 50 to 100 per cent over the ordinary kind.

TAMMANY FOR JEROME

New York's Strenuous Attorney May Run for Governorship.

New York, Aug. 15.—Following the announcement on Sunday night that District Attorney Jerome would accept an independent Democratic nomination if a united demand by the Democracy were made upon him, the confident belief was expressed yesterday that he will be the nominee of the state convention when it meets in Buffalo on Sept. 25.

Mr. Jerome would make no statement concerning his attitude yesterday, but it is
