

with loved ones, we tender our sympathy, praying our Lord to grant to them, as to us, grace for our every time of need.

We go forward on an untried future, assured that the God of our fathers will be our God. Those who have labored among us in the past are fast entering upon the reward of their labors, it is for us who are still left to take up the burdens, relying upon Him who was their strength to be ours also, and to lead us on to victory.

Your servants in the work of the Lord, on behalf of the Session,

C. R. SOMERVILLE,
Clerk.
