

We would be much pleased if visitors from our own congregation were more often seen at the sessions of the S. S. A more apparent proof of interest and sympathy with our work, by occasional attendance at our sessions on the part of parents and members of the congregation, would be a distinct benefit and a great source of satisfaction and encouragement to teachers and scholars. We would desire to call the attention of all to the great blessings to one's self, and others, to be derived from work in the S. S. The superintendent is under the constant necessity of providing new teachers in sufficient number for the classes. The lack of teachers is a constant source of weakness to the school and of trouble and worry to the officers that they should not be called upon to bear. We therefore urge upon all the duty and privilege of aiding in the work whenever called upon.

I cannot in words express the depth of my gratitude to the teachers and all workers for the many great tokens of their sympathy, love and support which I have received from them during the year. Our prayer is that the spirit of unity and harmony pervading the school, which is one of the greatest blessings we could receive, and of loyalty to our Master, may under God's blessing ever continue to animate our school.
