COURT HEARING CASE OVER WOOD LAKE RIGHTS

Judge Grimmer Sitting at Trial of Action in Chancery

The case of Thomas E. Nugent, Ada H. Dolan and Charles P. Nugent vs. McMillan, J. A. Warnock, G. G. Murdoch and C. A. Owens, an action involving rights of parties with respect to the property on which the Wood Lake Fishing Club is situated in the parish of St. Martins, was commenced before Mr. Justice Grimmer in the Chancery Court this morning.

STATEMENT OF CASE. According to the plaintiffs' contention, the lease of the property on which the fishing club is situated was originally obtained from the owner, the late Patrick H. Nugent, who had some difference of opinion with some of the lessees and declined to renew the lease. Dolan secured a ten-year lease of the premises, which was to expire on June 1, 1926, and in which there was a clause the effect that the owner, in lieu of granting a renewal, would pay $500 for improvements.

NEW CLERK OF PEACE. F. Gordon Nicholson, St. Stephen, was appointed clerk of the peace for Charlotte county in place of P. Elmer McLaughlin, who resigned to contest this county in the recent Federal elections.
