

Social Notes of Interest

Little Miss Jean Stetson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Stetson, was the occasion for a delightful party on Tuesday afternoon, to celebrate her ninth birthday. The party was held at "The Grove," the home of the late Mr. Stetson's grandfather, Major General H. H. McLean. There was the time honored cake, candies and lovely gifts and the young guests enjoyed their games on the lawn. Most of the guests were from Rouses, with a few going out from the city, who were Miss Constance Mullin, Miss Roberta Peterson, Miss Frances Vassie, Miss Dorothy Matthews, Miss Jane Crosby, Miss Charlotte Crosby, Miss Patricia Harrison, Miss Janice Harrison, Miss Charlotte Foster and Miss Barbara Sayre.

Miss Marion Delva is being showered with gifts in honor of her approaching marriage. On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Alex. Christie was hostess at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. A. Ewing, Peters street, for 85 girl friends of the bride-elect, who brought pretty and useful gifts in a generous variety. Yellow, which is the vogue for decorating was used in the color scheme. Those assisting the hostess in entertaining were Miss George Springer, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Miss Florence Warwick and Miss Frances Ewing, sister of Mrs. Christie. Mrs. Freeman Hamm, the sister of the bride-elect, presided over the tea cups at the supper hour. There will be other showers before the marriage takes place.

Among the young men going from here to McGill University was Mr. Ralph Warwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Warwick. He is entering for his first year and left for Montreal on Sunday.

Miss Pauline Dalton, who has been enjoying her vacation in Boston, has returned home.

Many Suggestions In French Style Displays

(United Press.)
New York, N. Y., Oct. 2.—While the majority of French designers and couturiers favor stiffer lines with widening hem features, long sleeves, and short skirts, there are details of radiance sponsored by these various style leaders which offer many suggestions, as may be seen in the following fall style summary.

Callot favors straight, sheath lines with wide decorated bands extending about the hips. These low hip bands may be embroidered, or beaded and in some cases the decorative note extends in front only. Apron front effects are another Callot idea and these are used in conjunction with the wide hip band on many of the afternoon frocks. Callot's sleeves are frequently long with fullness above the elbow and a tight-fitting lower portion. Pringles are also sponsored by Callot and these are added to give the flounce idea to the otherwise straight-lined frock. Callot's favorite colors this season are russet, brown and maroon for day time wear and yellow, Madonna blue, salmon pink and coral for evening wear.

No Radical Change.

Lucien Lelong declares that fall will see no radical change in silhouette as frocks will continue to be slender, straight and bellies as far as below the hips. Then widening all the way around the skirts in some sort of fullness. Lelong's skirts remain short. His evening wraps all have sleeves and he is not including one cape model in his fall display. Tailored suits will either be strictly tailored or "ensembles"—dresses with suit to match. The coats of these "ensembles" extend within a few inches of the bottom of the frock with tendency toward a flare at the coat bottom. For evening wear Mr. Lelong likes chiffon combined with fur. For day time he favors ribbed silks and shiny surfaced silks. His sports coats add a new note to the sports selection as they are all trimmed with spotted fur among which are leopard and burunduk—commonly known as chipmunk.

Slender Lines.

Charlotte who has made many of the frocks for American motion picture stars is slender lines with low waists. Belts are placed extremely low in many instances. What fullness is introduced is suggested in the tunic skirt which is cut on the bias and sewed over a very scant model foundation. Charlotte's foundations, by the way, are always separate from the gown itself. Charlotte favors the long light sleeve and believes that they add slenderness to the silhouette. Collars in many instances are high. Others are upstanding affairs in back terminating in a V-shaped front.

Panllette Frocks.

Cheruit is featuring panllette frocks for evening wear; the panllette, however, do not extend beneath the skirt and they are only noticed when the skirt is raised. Full, ruffled frocks are those which choose the panllette as an accessory. Many of Cheruit's evening frocks follow 1880 lines.

For daytime wear Cheruit is featuring straight, bellies frocks with a slight widening at the hemline.

Lavin, whose lines are always graceful, carries out the long sleeve idea by using wide, pleated sleeves which are gathered into a wrist band. Lavin's sleeves generally begin from an off-shoulder armhole and they may be embroidered or made of several colors of beiford, sewed together to form wide stripes and then finely pleated. Apron fronts and low waistlines are favorites of Lavin. Crops are generally sponsored for daywear and beaded and embroidered effects are popular.

French Style Notes.

The Directoire influence is noticed in the huge bows which appear at the front of the collars of tailored suits. Reverses and jabots also express the Directoire influence.

Small felt hats now show a tendency towards abandoning the cloche shapes as they are beginning to have turned-up brims extending all around. Many of the fall felts are trimmed with velvet bows or feather pompons.

Fur scarfs made of flat furs are replacing silk scarfs in the fall collection. They may be two and a half yards in length and are most popular in mink or squirrel.

Leather belts, buttons, bindings and fringe adorn many new sports frocks. Appliques of leather on cloth are shown on new fall garments of sports variety.

Sixty years ago, before the formation of the Universal Postal Union, it cost 12 cents to send a letter from the U. S. to England, 30 cents to send one to Brazil, 72 cents to send one to France, and to mail one ounce from the United States to New Zealand cost $2.50.

Forty-three per cent. of the population of Mexico is classed as Indians.

LAURIER STATUE DESIGN CHOSEN

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The sub-committee of the Cabinet which, with the assistance of experts, have been passing judgment upon the 50 designs submitted for the statue of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, have accepted that of Emile Brunet, of Montreal. He is a young sculptor who has been studying abroad and who made some of the ornamental designs of the Parliament Buildings.

The statue is to be in bronze and life size and will be on an imposing base with steps leading up to the pedestal. The model is very lifelike. It will probably be cast and completed by next summer and the unveiling will be the occasion of a ceremony fitting the distinguished statesman who is commemorated.

VOTES MONEY FOR WAR MEMORIAL

The Duke of Rothesay Chapter of the I. O. D. E. held its monthly meeting at the residence of Miss Gilbert in Paddock street last evening with Mrs. John McIntyre, regent, in the chair. The chapter heard an interesting paper on the League of Nations given by Miss Pitcher, who is its representative in the League of Nations Society, and also heard Mrs. K. I. Campbell's excellent report of the National Chapter annual meeting. Money was voted to send a box to a needy soldier's family in a provincial centre. Very satisfactory reports of the rummage sale held on Saturday were given the meeting. The Duke of Rothesay Chapter at its last meeting this season voted $80 towards the war memorial of the order.

Eighty playgrounds were maintained by London schools during the summer to keep the children off the streets.

Air on the earth holds the heat in, much as the glass of a house holds the heat inside it.

For every wash-day method

RINSO is ideal for any wash-day method you use. You do not have to change any of your usual steps—just use Rinsol where you used to use ordinary soap.

If you like to boil your white cottons, Rinsol will give you just the safe cleansing suds you need in the boiler. If you use a washing machine, follow the advice of the big washing machine manufacturers—use Rinsol.

Just soaking with this new kind of soap loosens all the dirt until a single rinsing leaves the clothes clean and spotless.

However you do your wash, make it easy by using Rinsol.

GRAPE-NUTS MOCK OMELET

2 tablespoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 cup milk, 2 eggs, 1/4 cup Grape-Nuts, 6 slices bacon.

Sift flour, salt, pepper and baking powder, and add milk a little at a time, keeping free from lumps. Beat eggs sufficiently to break yolks, and add. Fry bacon in omelet pan and remove when crisp. Pour in mixture and cook slowly, lifting edges to let liquid run under. When set, sprinkle Grape-Nuts over top, hold under oven flame a few minutes and fold. Decorate with bacon strips and parsley.

This recipe serves four persons.
