HERE'S SOMETHING NOT MANY MEN CAN DO

Have you ever heard a man speak in such a forcibly compelling way that every word he utters grips your utmost interest so that you strain your ears not to lose a syllable? The kind of man makes you remark when you get home "oh, say, you just should have been there this afternoon, it was simply wonderful, I wouldn't have missed it for anything." That describes Dr. Vincent of New York to a T, he's a most wonderful orator, world famous man in a million—his coming here to speak in the Imperial Theatre next Sunday afternoon and its not going to cost anything to hear him. He's going to say a few things about the vital problems of the present day in such a way as to arouse first your astonishment and then your utmost breath taking interest. There's going to be a full Imperial orchestra, massed city choirs, special singers' everythings, starts at 8.30.

ST. JOHN-TRURO EXPRESS TRAIN IN COLLISION

Amherst, April 17.—A two track road is not security against collisions. An investigation is being made of a crash on Friday, when the St. John-Truro train No. 18 ran into a locomotive of the Maritime Coal, Railway and Power Company at Maccan. The pilot was broken off the engine of the St. John train and the other locomotive was badly damaged. The St. John train was delayed an hour and a half. No one was injured. The private engine had been using the westbound C. N. R. track in the yard to load freight on its own cars.

"WAIST LINE" SOCIAL

Dominion Lodge, I. O. G. T., No. 445, entertained about 100 of its friends at a "waist line" social in its hall in Murray street on Friday evening in aid of the Wright Street Memorial Home for Children. A pleasing programme was carried out as follows: Piano solo, Miss V. McLaughlin; reading, Miss Florence Johnston; piano solo, Miss Nellie Scribner; solo, Miss Mesphrine Murray; solo, Mrs. Ernest Chapman; duet, Mrs. McKane and Miss Randall; reading, T. B. Brown. B. Bloomfield Grand gave a brief outline of the opening of the Memorial Home and an interesting talk on Temperance, the past and present, in Canada, U. S. A. and Europe. The committee in charge was Miss M. Anderson, convener; Mrs. B. L. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. G. Lemon, Mrs. McKane, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. T. B. Brown. B. L. Kirkpatrick, chief tempter, presided. About $25 was realized and will go to the Memorial Home. Admission was charged at one cent per inch of the waist measurement of each patron.

WORKED SIXTY YEARS. STILL A YOUNG CHAP

Newspapermen are noted for not "watching the clock" when working, but few of them can equal the record revealed by this incident. Business men yesterday were discussing John Lang, circulation manager and later assistant manager of The Toronto World. They were figuring how long he had been with the paper. "He has been with The World for thirty years," said one. "No, sixty years," was the opinion of another. "It can't be sixty years," objected the first. "Mr. Lang is still a young man." "I tell you it is sixty years," said the second man. "He worked there every day for thirty years, but he worked every night, too, and that makes sixty years."

JAP AMBASSADOR FOR CONSTANTINOPLE

Paris, April 18.—Baron Uchida, formerly Japanese minister to Sweden, and one of the most astute of Oriental diplomats, has embarked at Marseilles en route to Constantinople, where he will be given the title of Japanese ambassador. This will be the first time that Japan has had a minister at Constantinople or even remotely indicated her interest in the solution of Near East problems.

SELLING PULP AT LESS THAN COST

Striking Statements Made by Angus McLean of Bathurst on General Situation.

(Bathurst Northern Light.)

There is not much hope for improvement either in the local or in the general industrial situation until such time as the accumulations of stock acquired by jobbers and middle men during the high price regime are worked off upon the public. After that the channels of trade may be cleared of the wreckage but not before, and in the meantime it is difficult to foretell what depths of trade depression may not be sounded. That, in brief, is the opinion of Mr. Angus McLean, of the Bathurst Lumber Company, who left town at the beginning of the week on a business trip to Ottawa.

"I have made it a practice to get orders regardless of the price," said Mr. McLean, "and yet, we are only shipping an occasional car load. We are selling our pulp today at a price that is 80c less than it cost to manufacture last December, and we have all kinds of the December stock on hand. We are actually selling pulp for less than it costs us to produce simply in order to get business, and even at that we are not moving a thing of what we produce. It is costing us result will be, once we have filled every available corner with the other two-thirds, can be readily understood."

No European Market

"While making worldwide inquiries for markets I ascertained that there was a third of what we produce. It is costing us result will be, once we have filled every available corner with the other two-thirds, can be readily understood."

"Last week we had a shipment of toilet paper, which, as you know, is of a very cheap quality, and the price of it was about 35c per pound, which is equal to about $700 per ton for pulp, and the price we are getting for our pulp—and pulp of a quality much too superior to be manufactured into the paper I am referring to—is less than $70 a ton. Take another example: We got in some scribbling pads, and the price ran to something like forty cents a pound, which is equal to something like $800 per ton for pulp. The cost in the manufacture has to be considered, of course, but in no case is that likely to exceed ten per cent. The cost of the intermediaries, or the middle men, who are keeping up the prices. It is not the pulp manufacturers, nor is it the paper manufacturers that are getting the profits, but the men who operate between the manufacturers, or the converting mills, and the consuming public. They have large surplus stocks on hand and they will not lower the price until it is unloaded on the public, and in the meantime they will not buy any more."

DEPLORES CLERGY IN BUSINESS

Bishop Lawrence Addresses Annual Convention of Episcopal Church.

Boston, April 18.—Bishop William Lawrence in his annual address to the Massachusetts diocesan convention of the Episcopal church deplored the number of clergymen who were mixing business with Holy Orders to the detriment of the church and the condition was one which he regarded as symptomatic of a let-down of the standards of high devotion, industry, self-sacrifice and efficiency. "The figure may be no greater than in other callings from which many men drop out," said the bishop. "But the priest of the church is consecrated to life service and if for good reasons he must drop out and take up another life work, should he not ask to be released from

UNUSUAL PROBLEM FOR PARIS POLICE

Husband Found Wife Wounded on Floor in Middle of Night.

Paris, April 18.—The French police have just been asked to solve an unusual problem. A reputable bourgeois named Courrelange awoke at an early hour of the morning to find his wife was no longer by his side. Going to an anteroom he discovered her lying senseless on the floor with fragments of a plaster statue beside her. She bore a number of small wounds on the right hand which seemed to be made by the sharp point of scissors, and her long black hair was cut short.

Revived by her husband, she explained that she heard a noise in the anteroom and going to investigate found two masked men there, one of whom struck her on the head with the statue, after which she remembered no more. Not only had her husband heard no sounds of a struggle—which he told the police was perhaps due to his habit of taking a sleeping draught—but Mme. Courrelange's mother, who slept in an adjoining room and is a very light sleeper, had not been disturbed. Yet the mother found 500 francs missing from a bag at her bedside, which was the only thing suffered in the house.

The family dog had raised no alarm, but the porter at the door of the building remembered seeing one man—not two—slink out about four a.m. Both husband and wife enjoy the esteem of their neighbors and there has been no breath of gossip against either. The police, who were at first inclined to talk about a "cinema romance," now take the matter seriously, but admit themselves baffled. Meanwhile the story is prominently displayed by leading newspapers and the public interest is widely aroused.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

While a demonstration was in progress on Saturday afternoon by the invasion of the Fraser mills, at Chatham Head, by some of the men who are refusing to work, one man was struck on the head by a block of wood. He was not injured seriously.

Roderique Lalepripian, Hugh Wood and William McParsery were arrested on Saturday on a charge of theft from the general store of Joseph Falome, Newcastle. Several articles are said to have been stolen from the store.

Thousands assembled at the shrine of St. Joseph's on Mount Royal, Montreal yesterday afternoon, at the pilgrimage arranged by the Knights of Columbus to commemorate the year 1921 to St. Joseph, who, fifty years ago, was chosen by Pope Pius IX at the patron saint of the Catholic church.

FOUNTAIN PEN SAVED LIFE OF LISBON JUDGE

Lisbon, April 18.—Attempts to assassinate the judges and members of the Tribunal of Public Defence continue. Several of the members of the court already have been killed or wounded. The latest attempt was made on the life of Dr. Pereira de Sousa, one of the judges who was shot as he entered the gate of his own garden. His life was saved by the fact that the bullets aimed at his heart pierced a pocketbook and was stopped by his fountain pen, the bullet falling harmlessly into his pocket where it was found.

The police attribute these attacks to members of the Young Syndicalist's Association.
