APPLE SHIPMENTS FROM N. S. HAVE COMMENCED

Some of Nova Scotia's Product Have Been Sent Across Atlantic and to Newfoundland.

(Halifax Chronicle.)

The apple shipment to the United Kingdom and to Newfoundland have commenced, and a record season is looked for. The first shipment for Liverpool was sent by the Furness liner Sachem, which sailed on Saturday and totalled 2800 barrels. This is the earliest that apples have been shipped across the Atlantic for fifteen years.

About the middle of September, two large shipments are expected to be made.
The Furness liners Castellano and Wigmore are both due to load between 15,000 and 15,000 barrels. In addition to the steamer named in the recent list published, the Alpine Range will leave here for Glasgow about September 27th with a heavy shipment of apples.

The Red Cross liner took a carload of apples to Newfoundland on her trip two weeks ago, and when she sails today she will have on board another 640 barrels.
The Sachem also had about 200 barrels of St. John's, when she sailed on Saturday.

PAT'S WIFE ON BACK TO HIDE $5,000 GEMS

Detective Pats Her, Too, and Then Arrests Hotel Porter as Thief — Discloses Big Robberies.

(N. Y. Times)

After Detective Finn had arrested Edward Bond, a hotel porter, at 102nd street and Amsterdam avenue, at 6 o'clock last night, he thought there was something unusual in the way that Bond patted the back of his wife while he kept saying: "There, there. Don't worry. Everything will be all right." So Finn, who first had asked Bond to go to the West 100th street Station to be questioned, then had overpowered him when he started to run, and then had arrested him when the struggle disclosed a loaded revolver in Bond's hip pocket, now patted Mrs. Bond's back himself. When he felt a lump there he asked Mrs. Bond to go to the station house too.

There a search revealed the lump was made by a cigarette box containing four rings. Two of them were signet rings.
Two were diamond rings, one containing a three-carat stone, and the other a diameter ring, two-carat stones surrounded by thirty smaller ones. The detectives said the rings were worth about $5,000.

The detectives said that Bond, who was charged with grand larceny and violation of the Sullivan law, confessed to several robberies in hotels on the West Side where his employment as a porter and houseman permitted him to enter the rooms of guests for tasks like window cleaning. The detectives said Bond said he got the four rings found on his wife—who was allowed to go home with the baby she was carrying in her arms—while employed in the hotel Schuyler in West Forty-fifth street.

It was learned later that Mrs. Julia B. McLean, wife of William J. McLean, an advertising man, had reported the loss of rings from her room.

A search of Bond's apartment at 205 West 101st street, detectives said, resulted in the discovery of a large number of pawn tickets, one of them from a pawnshop in Scranton, Pa., showing that a diamond ring had been pledged by Bond for $500.

COLLIDED WITH A BIG WHALE

Liner St. Paul Crashed Into
It Off Coast of Ireland.

New York, Sept. 3.—You could generally tell when you sunk a submarine by the quantities of oil that rose to the surface immediately after, but Skipper Herbert Candy, of the St. Paul, didn't see any whale oil on the Atlantic last Tuesday, so he doesn't know, and maybe never will, whether or not he sank the whale.

Last Tuesday the St. Paul of the American Line, was 800 miles out from Ireland, headed for the North River. Suddenly there was a bump. Skipper Candy, the crew and 800 passengers slid forward three feet simultaneously.

The skipper sent word below to find out about the bump. Word came from below that there was nothing down there that could cause any bumps. The prop-ellor was going round as per schedule.
Then Skipper Candy saw a large black body floating off the St. Paul.
"It can't be the Azores," said the
