TRAIN ACCIDENT
A bad run-off occurred at Kent Junction last night when eight cars of dead-head equipment train en route to Halifax left the rails. A considerable portion of the road-bed was torn up, but no one was injured.

THE FLEMING CASE
The suit of the provincial government against J. K. Fleming for the recovery of $100,000, goes to the supreme court on question of law. The case came up again before Chief Justice McKeown this morning with this result: Hon. W. P. Jones, K.C., and P. J. Hughes appear for the government, and J. B. M. Baxter, K.C., and A. S. Connell, M.P., for Mr. Fleming.

DEATH OF BOY PRINCE SUDDEN
No Time to Summon King and Queen Before Son Expired

The death of Prince John, youngest son of King George, came so quickly and unexpectedly on Saturday night that there was no time for the king and queen to be summoned to the bedside before he expired.

In recent years the delicate health of Prince John made it necessary that he always have an attendant. Consequently he was never seen on public occasions with the exception of the royal family, but lived in comparative privacy at Frogmore House, Windsor, or at Sandringham Palace.

The London newspapers point out sympathetically how the king and queen have sought incessantly during the war time to bury the tragedy of their youngest son's delicate health in the silence of their hearts, never hinting to the nation the nature of the personal anxieties weighing upon them.

GAIN OF $30,000

Services in connection with the funeral of Mrs. Leslie Johnson took place this morning at her late residence, Mecklenburg street. The body was taken to the Assumption, West St. John. Services were conducted by Rev. A. J. O'Neill. Interment was made in Holy Cross cemetery.

FATHER COUGHLIN LAID TO REST THIS MORNING

he had sworn to overcome at his ordination.

Others would remember him, said Father O'Keefe, as the chaplain of the Father Matthew Association. He loved to be with the boys, with many of whom he had grown up, and if they were not following the path of virtue he chided, then because he loved them. He many of these were good citizens today who owed it to Father who had labored so indefatigably in their midst. He was also chaplain of the Good Shepherd Monastery, and his stay at the Sisters always made his visit to the institution a festive occasion, for they loved and respected him.

The Bishop saw his ability and sent him to Holyville. During his stay at that parish the same characteristics which distinguished him here were in evidence, and he immediately started to organize against evil. He used all the ability God gave him to this end, and never did he receive a call from the sick or dying that he did not immediately respond to bring consolation and strength to the dying so that when they departed this life they did so with hope and love for Christ. He was kind to the poor and welcome was ever written over his door.

Father O'Keefe told of the early life of Father Coughlin, how he loved to serve at the holy sacrifice of the mass, of his studies for the priesthood and his success at St. Joseph's College. He had never a doubt as to his vocation, and the height of his ambition was to become a priest of God. He then spoke of his illness which manifested itself a few months ago, his consultations with learned physicians and the courageous manner in which he went about his duties, even after learning that he had but a few months to live; how he returned to the Cathedral and celebrated his last mass and gave his soul into the hands of God. "He died as he lived, a true soldier of Christ."

In closing Father O'Keefe said that if the cold lips could speak they would tell his friends "pray for me."

When the ceremony was over, the body was conveyed to its last resting place on earth, the priests' lot in the new Catholic cemetery, where burial services were conducted by Father Harold Coughlin. As the body was borne from the church, the Dead March in Saul was played by Arthur S. Goudoe on the Cathedral chimes.

The following priests were present at the obsequies: His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, Revs. D. S. O'Keefe, St. Andrews; J. W. Holland, St. George; Geo. Pettit, Calais; Miles P. Howland, Kingsclear; E. J. Conway, Chipman; J. J. Ryan, Woodstock; M. T. Murphy, St. Mary's; C. Hannigan, Petrusville; H. O. Cormier, Moncton; A. Robichaud, Fox Creek; A. Poirier, St. Mary's, Kent county; Philip Hebert, Notre Dame; Dr. Bourgeois, St. Timothy; E. J. Savage, Moncton; M. O'Brien, Norton; J. J. McBurnett, Sussex; P. McBride, St. Joseph's College; C. J. McLaughlin, Debec; P. Joseph, North Shore; P. Woods, C.S.B.; E. Cloran, C.S.B.; of St. Peter's church; Very Rev. J. J. Walsh, V.C.; Rev. Charles Collins, C. P. Carleton; F. J. McMurray, F. Walker, Win. M. Duke, W. L. Moore, R. D. Fraser and A. J. O'Neill, city.

During Tuesday, as the body of the priest lay in his mother's home in Esplanade street, there was a constant stream of friends calling to express their sympathy with the family in their great loss.

Mrs. St. John Men Home After Doing Well Their Share in Winning Victory

Twenty of St. John's gallant sons arrived home this morning on the Halifax train, which pulled into the Union depot at 6:05 o'clock. The party reached Halifax yesterday on the Empress of Britain, which brought back to Canada 3,186 of her fighting men. The men were met at the station this morning by members of their families and by Chas. Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission. The men for military district No. 7, constituting the province of New Brunswick were allowed to go direct to their homes to report at Fredericton for discharge in four or five days. In the case of the men coming back on a hospital ship the procedure is quite different. The men must go to Fredericton, there get their medical board and then be granted a furlough.

The St. John men in the party were unanimous in the expression "I'd be home, but would not have missed it for a great deal." Very few in the party were badly wounded, but some are suffering from internal troubles. Sergeant G. Gunner went overseas as a member of the original 26th Battalion. He wears upon his coat the service ribbons of 1918.

Quartermaster-Sergeant A. Evans of the C. F. A., son of Walter Evans, 83 Seely street, was in the party. He went overseas as a member of the 80th battalion from Victoria, B. C., in the summer of 1915. After arriving in England he was transferred to the 16th battalion in France and later to the Canadian Field Artillery. On Oct. 8, 1918, he was wounded and invalided to England.

Gunner R. M. Cowan, son of A. E. Cowan, Kennedy street, arrived home. Gunner Cowan was among the first of the St. John boys to enlist and went overseas as a member of the artillery unit from St. John in the first contingent. In March, 1916, he was wounded after recuperating he returned to France and at the fighting at Cambrai he was shell shocked.

Sergeant S. K. Kee, son of John Kee, Pitt street, a member of the 26th Battalion, arrived in the party. He went overseas in the 11th Battalion. In January, 1918, he was taken ill with diphtheria and was invalided to England.

Gunner Joseph K. Kennedy, son of John Kennedy, 164 Sydney street, went overseas with a draft from the 9th Siege Battery. He was in France but was taken ill and invalided to England.

Sergeant Gordon Pinney of East St. John was among the returned soldiers to recuperate in the party. He was overseas as a member of the original 26th. He was wounded three times, first in the latter fight, and his last wound in the summer of 1917. This finished his military career in France, but after recuperating he was made a sergeant-instructor at Witley Camp. Frank Pinney, a teacher, was in the battle in the town of Courcellette. Sergeant Pinney is well known in local sporting circles as a glove maker. His many friends will be pleased to learn that he has arrived safely home.

Bombardier S. L. Mellday of Sydney street, was in the party. He went overseas as a member of a draft from the 9th Siege Battery. In the battle of Amiens in August '18, he was wounded and invalided to England. Bombardier Mellday spoke very highly of the work done by the Salvation Army in France, and of the treatment he received in both Canadian and English hospitals.

The St. John men in the party were: A. Evans, 83 Seely street; W. H. Deane, 208 Pitt street; C. M. Campbell, 42 St. John street; H. M. Cowan, 77 Kennedy street; A. H. Crowley, 64 Carleton street; J. D. Daley, 82 Winter street; E. N. Day, Petrusville Island; F. C. Dixon, Sp. Cove road; J. Kennedy, 164 Sydney street; C. E. Lockhart, Main street; W. Lockhart, 40 1/2 City Line, West St. John; J. A. Marques, 12 Westworth street; C. L. May, 18 Wall street; S. L. Mellday, 138 Sydney street; E. A. Palmer, 254 City road; G. Pinney, East St. John; M. H. Powers, 14 Gernain street, and K. A. Scott, 255 Smythe street.

DISCHARGED IN SANDY POINT ROAD CASE

At the resumed sitting of the supreme court circuit this morning, His Honor Judge Barry presiding, in the case of the King vs. Kelly, Connell and Kane, charged with breaking and entering the property of A. O'Leary, Sandy Point road, and stealing geese, his honor said that so far as the case preferred against the prisoners is the indictment brought before his court was concerned, the prisoners would be discharged. When the case came up for trial on last Saturday the count in the indictment charging that of geese was quashed, and the count charging breaking and entering was withdrawn by the crown. William M. Ryan appeared in behalf of the defendants and Dr. B. Wallace, K. C., for the crown.

The court adjourned until 2:30 o'clock when the civil case of Gerow vs. Webber was to be taken up. The grand jury were discharged from further attendance at the court.
