TELLS HOW BULGARIA WAS ENTICED INTO WAR

Morganthau Reveals Negotiations Which Saved Constantinople and Germany From Quick Defeat

Turkey brought Bulgaria into the world war by ceding a strip of territory around Adrianople. This fact is brought to light by ex-Ambassador Henry Morganthau in an article in the current World's Work. This territory is the source of the present friction between Bulgaria and Turkey, recently reported in dispatches from abroad. Mr. Morganthau's account is as follows:

"The failure of the allied fleet at the Dardanelles did not definitely settle the fate of Constantinople. The most direct road to the ancient capital still remained available to their enemies.

"In early September, 1915, one of the most influential Germans in the city gave me a detailed explanation of the prevailing military situation. He summed up the whole matter in the simple phrase: "We cannot hold the Dardanelles without the military support of Bulgaria."

"This meant, of course, that unless Bulgaria adopted the cause of Turkey and the Central Empires, the Gallipoli expedition would succeed. Constantinople would fall, the Turkish Empire would collapse, Russia would be recreated as an economic and military power, and the war, in a comparatively brief period, would terminate in a victory for the Entente.

"I had my first personal contact with the Bulgarian negotiations in the latter part of May, when I was informed that M. Kolonecheff, the Bulgarian minister had notified Robert College that the Bulgarian students would not remain in Constantinople until the end of the college year, but would have to return home by June 5. The College for Women had also received word that all the Bulgarian girls must return at the same time.

"The conclusion reached by most people was that Bulgaria had decided to take the side of the Entente. The news rapidly spread throughout Constantinople. The Turks were particularly impressed."

BAD SCALD

"Such relief I felt when I applied Zam-Buk to a badly scalded hand!" writes Mrs. A. Kiesel, of 416 Timothy St., Montreal.

"I was standing near the stove when the kettle boiled over on my hand. I applied some ointment which I had in the house, but it did not ease the burning. The skin peeled off and the pain was so bad that I got no sleep for two nights.

"Then I commenced using Zam-Buk, and the first application gave me wonderful relief. It seemed to cool the burning so that I was able to sleep, and from then the scald began to heal. Zam-Buk grew new skin over the sore place and before long my hand was quite all right again."

Zam-Buk should always be kept in the house for cuts, burns and knocks, and for eczema, ringworm, boils, pimples, blood-poisoning, ulcers and piles it cannot be equalled. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. See box & box $1.25.

Dark Picture Of Life In Russia

Dr. Angus Campbell, New Yorker, Back From Russia, Says Conditions Are Beyond Imagination

Among Americans returning from Russia last week was Dr. Angus Campbell of New York, who has made eight trips to northern Europe since the war started in 1914, and left Moscow three weeks ago. He traveled by train to Petrograd, which took forty-eight hours instead of twelve under normal conditions, and thence by steamboat to Stockholm.

Conditions Beyond Imagination.

"The conditions existing in Russia at the present time," Dr. Campbell said, "are so bad that they cannot be imagined, except by those who have been there. The Bolsheviks hold full sway and are a band of adventurers, assembled from all parts of the world. I did not see Trotsky, but I often met Lenin and heard his address. Meetings are a fanatic out and out and very dangerous."

"One thing certain is that the Bolsheviks are pro-German. At first they were passive, but gradually they became bolder and bolder, until they openly acknowledged their partisanship with the Central Powers."

"In Moscow food is at famine prices. When I left there at the beginning of this month bread cost eighteen rubles a pound, butter thirty-two rubles, and sugar thirty rubles a pound. Green apples, which gave the people who ate them cholera morbus, cost three rubles each."

"The Bolsheviks divided the inhabitants of Moscow into four classes; first, the workers, who were given what food could be obtained in the city; secondly, the women, who came next in order for the ration; then the students; and lastly, the wealthy class, who were allowed three herrings per day and no bread."

Foreigners Robbed of Papers.

"There are a few street cars running in Moscow. The hotels have all been commandeered by the Bolsheviks and I had to go to them to get a room. There are no courts of justice and no regular police. Guards stand at the street corners with loaded rifles ready to shoot on the slightest provocation. They will hold a foreigner up and take his money from him if he has any, and may kill him if he has none. It depends upon how the particular guard feels that day."

"Other Bolshevik agents in uniform often stop foreigners in the streets, Moscow and take away their papers and money under the pretense that it is for official examination. They tell the victim to call at the police station next morning, but that is the last he will see of any of his property."

THE SCHOOL GARDEN ARMY

(Bangor Commercial.)

Secretary Lane of the department of the interior, announces that the campaign for the School Garden Army has proven so successful that it will be continued next year with even greater effort and it is hoped that the million and a half children who were enrolled in it this year will be multiplied by two or by three. President Wilson has appropriated $200,000 for the advancement of the work in the next ten months.

The campaign was undertaken with two special objects, first of course the increase of the food production and second, the training of school children in thrift, industry, service, patriotism and responsibility.

The accomplishments have been large as may be seen by a glance at the following summarization of achievement:

1. One million five hundred thousand boys and girls have responded to the call of the president and enlisted in the United States School Garden Army.
2. Twenty thousand acres of unproductive home and vacant lots have been converted into productive land. This will release an equal acreage now used in truck gardening for the production of other foodstuffs more important for war purposes. It will also relieve transportation congestion through home consumption of home produced foodstuffs.
3. Fifty thousand teachers have received valuable instruction in gardening through the garden leaflets written by experts in this office and distributed from here.
4. Boards of education and other civic organizations have been influenced to give financial and moral support to the school and home garden movement and to pay extra salaries for supervision and teaching.
5. Hundreds of thousands of parents have become interested in the garden movement and are working with their children in home gardens. In Salt Lake City alone 5,200 mothers representing 62 parental associations are actively supporting food production in the schools.
6. Thousands of civic, commercial and patriotic organizations have become interested in the movement and are giving it hearty support.
7. One and one-half million children work must start in the schools with the inspection of children. He told of the many ailments that can be avoided by looking properly after the children and it was up to the sense of the women of the province to do all in their power to make the law work out satisfactorily. He said they shouldn't get peeved when their child was sent home from school, some morning, with an order to have its tonsils removed before it would be allowed to return to school. It was for the good of the child and the parent must look at it in that light. He assured the ladies that he would see to it that lady inspectors were appointed to the various health districts.

SIX MEN FROM TAOS.

Tribute to Indian Braves Who Died Fighting for America.

Six men are down from Taos. Six men who came from the little Indian pueblo have given all they had to right and honor. The casualty list tells many things, but it tells few things more grandly glorious than the passing of the six Taos braves. Old Taos of New Mexico—walled city where the Spaniards held their sway before the Pilgrims sighted Plymouth Rock, and where the silent Indians, through all these four hundred years, still light their watch-fires on the walls, and wait to see Montezuma come again!

Old Taos of New Mexico, where Don-phan rode in these seventy years ago, and brought the flag—the flag that has fluttered over Taos ever since, and fluttered high above the six Taos braves who died! There are not 500 souls in Taos, and there cannot be a hundred warriors of them all—and yet, out of Taos, into the smoke and flame, went six silent, fighting red men, six Indian soldiers who gave up their lives!

Six men are down from Taos; six Pueblo braves will see the brown hills and the Rio Grande no more. Six men are down from Taos—and does the glorious story of slain tell a nobler, finer story?—Cincinnati Times Star.

Surgeon-General Gorgas has announced that 447 sick and wounded soldiers from American Expeditionary forces were returned to the United States during the week ending September 6.

A FAMOUS showplace for visitors is the great lighthouse at Flamboro' Head, Yorkshire, England. Three things visitors invariably remark—the power of the light itself, the marvellous mechanism that controls it, but—above all—the brightness and cleanliness of the lamp and the lamp chamber.

The story is told how one old lady exclaimed in amazement to the lighthouse keeper, "My, how did you get everything so clean and spotless? It is just like new." "Madam," gravely replied the old salt, "It was clean when we got it and we just keep it clean; we never let it get dirty."

What is true of the Flamboro' Light is equally true of the human brain and body.

The proper development—continued health—physical effort—of the body—clear, decisive thinking on the part of the brain—can only accompany cleanliness. Keep your system clean and healthy by the regular use of—
