NEW PITCHER NOW HERE

White of Boston Nationals in Marathon Uniform This Week
—Boston Chat About Our Teams

The Marathons are playing in Fredericton this afternoon. George Winter is booked to do the twirling, while either Harrington or Mount was to pitch for the Capitals.

Steve White, the Boston National pitcher who has been signed with the Marathons, will arrive here tomorrow and will pitch one of the games here against Fredericton this week. White is an R.I. pitcher and ought to strengthen the Greys considerably.

Last evening's Boston Globe had the following:
 Many Greater Boston athletes playing in the New Brunswick-Maritime Baseball League teams are giving a splendid account of themselves this summer.
 George Winter, formerly of the Boston Red Sox pitching staff, who is captain and manager of the St. John Marathon team, was in the city Monday looking up a few players.

Winkler, a pitcher, and Harry Dutton, a first baseman, are two of the leading members of the Marathon team, while "Chick" Fraser, formerly of the Dorchester High baseball team, is playing a slashing game at second.

Four Dorchester boys, three former high school players are identified with the Fredericton team, which is at present leading the league. They are William Brennan, pitcher; Larry Conley, pitcher and outfielder; Coleman Conley, outfielder; and John Murray, a catcher. The first three named are former Dorchester High School all-around athletes and their work has been followed very closely.

Stanley Bates, formerly of the Quincy High School athletic team, is playing for Fredericton. Frank Harrington of Wakefield, formerly of the Washington team of the American League, are also showing fine form with the leaders.

Ed Stanley, who has gained much fame as a major leaguer, is playing right field for Fredericton, and is captain of the team. Pat Duggan, a former minor leaguer, is manager of the Fredericton team.

Houlton has a formidable team. Urquhart, a pitcher from Amherst College, is a member of this team.

Woodside, N. B. Woodside among the stars Charles McLaughlin, who captained the Harvard Varsity team, two years ago and "Zeke" Reeves, who captained the Varsity team at Harvard a year ago and this past season.

Frank Harrington, formerly of Melrose High School, who pitched several important games for Brown University the past season, was pitching in his league until his arm gave him trouble and he asked permission to return home. He has had several chances to return, but as he has a condition to work off at Brown before he returns to college, he thinks he will remain in Melrose.

CITY IS CLEANER

Board of Health Inspection Shows Satisfactory Improvement

The duties of the nine special inspectors appointed by the board of health several weeks ago to make a round of the city in annual general cleaning campaign is about ended. Seven have already finished and the other two are expected to complete their work this week. They visited all sections of the city, which was divided into districts for the purpose, and went over their routes twice to see that any recommendations which they made at first were attended to. In most cases there was nothing to complain of, as the yards and premises in almost every section were clean.

The reports of the inspectors will probably show that the city is now in better condition than for many years and that the people are taking greater care of their premises. Usually a third inspection has to be made at a large number of properties, but this year there will be occasion for this in fewer places than formerly.

One of the reasons given is the fact that hundreds of patent closets have been installed about the city at the instigation of the board.

PROGRESS AT SAND POINT

The construction of the sea wall at Blue Rock, to protect the foundation of the immense grain elevator which is to be built there by the C. P. R., is progressing rapidly. Commencing at a point midway in the former bathing beach, it circles around Blue Rock and runs into the shore again in the section of the present elevator.

The sea wall has already been raised to above high-water mark in some places. As soon as the wall is completed it is expected that work will commence on the foundations for the elevator.

FOR DRISCOLL AND KILBANE

New York, July 18.—The National Sporting Club of London is making an effort to match Jim Driscoll, feather-weight champion of Great Britain, with Johnny Kilbane, for the world's title. Charles M. Matheson, representative of the London club in this country, received a cable message last night, asking him to take up negotiations with Kilbane. No price was suggested, but it is understood that the club is prepared to hang up a big purse.

Boston, July 17.—Tough battling fast for twelve rounds, the verdict in the bout last night at the Pilgrim A. A. between Matty Baldwin, the Charlestown light-weight, and Tommy O'Keefe, of Philadelphia, was a draw. As usual there was division of opinion. Many figured that Baldwin should have received the decision. Others thought O'Keefe was entitled to it and yet others considered the award just one. It was the feature event of the meeting, the first of the club will hold till September, and the programme was a good one.

GRAND ORANGE COUNCIL

Glasgow, Scot., July 18.—The triennial conference of the Imperial Grand Orange Council of the world opened yesterday. Andrew Weir, a New York delegate, presided the assemblage there were 100,000 Orangemen in America who were ready to stand beside the men of Ulster, foot by foot and financially, in order to wipe out home rule.
