

SENTENCED TO FIVE YEARS FOR FRAUD TRY TO STOP THE RACE MEETING

C. W. JENNINGS MAKES TEARFUL PLEA FOR MERCY

Prisoner Tells of Tribulations While Organizing Insurance Company

Vancouver, May 17.—Charles W. Jennings, president of the defunct Hudson's Bay Mutual Fire Insurance Company, accused of fraud, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Judge McInnes yesterday afternoon.

The trials and tribulations met with by W. Jennings and the subsequent history of the company were given yesterday by the accused who went into the witness box to give evidence in his own behalf.

That his aims were to organize a company that would carve for him a brilliant future, was the statement made by Jennings.

Jennings almost broke down on two occasions and with tears in his eyes and a wavering voice appealed to the court for protection against the people, who he said had gone into the witness box and perjured themselves.

"When I went away from this company," he said, "I had justice branded in my heart. I only wanted to make a future for myself in the west. The money that was put into the company was my money, money that I had worked hard for. I humiliated myself to obtain funds with which to carry on the work of organizing the company."

Jennings' explanation of the downfall of the Hudson's Bay Mutual Fire Insurance company and his story of the doings previous to the formation of the company occupied the attention of the court for over an hour.

Upon one occasion, Kirk, he said, had come to him in the court and formed him that he had better let him take over the control of the company. He had told him he had not sufficient stock in the company to do this.

When the hearing of the case was resumed yesterday another batch of stock certificates representing about $12,400 were produced by the prosecutor, Wm. McKay, shares sold to Seattle holders. This brought the total in shares disposed of by the company up to nearly $138,000.

Upon conclusion of Jennings' statement he was subjected to a severe cross-examination by Mr. McKay.

"What became of the books of the company?" accused was asked "as far as I know they are still in the office of the company."

"Where is Birrs now?" "The last I saw of him he was on his way to Seattle. He was very intoxicated and could not tell much about the affairs of the company."

"What is your right name?" "Charles W. Jennings."

"The son of a man of Avela Birrs?" "Yes, that is a wise boy who knows his father. That is the only way I can answer that question."

Mr. McKay here changed the accused's handwriting in which the latter addressed Birrs "Dear Father" and concluded with "Your Loving Son, Charles W. Jennings" admitted this letter was written by him, but would not admit that Birrs was his father.

Several other questions were put to Jennings before the cross-examination was concluded, one of which was with reference to the amount of stock issued by the company. Jennings swore that he had only issued stock amounting to about $75,000.

WILL ATTEMPT TO ENJOIN THE CLUB

Case Will Be Argued in Vancouver To-morrow—Mayor Makes Affidavit

(From Wednesday's Daily.) The hearings throughout the city are placarded with picturesque notices of the race meeting which is billed to commence on Saturday, and the street cars bear on their fenders a legend to a similar effect in large and loud type, yet the question whether the race meet will actually take place is one that depends upon legal argument to be decided in Vancouver to-morrow, there being no judge at the Supreme court in Victoria this week.

City Solicitor McDiarmid will leave the capital this afternoon to apply for an injunction restraining the Victoria Country Club from bringing off the race meet at the agricultural grounds. In his journey over he is armed with an affidavit over the signature of the mayor to the effect that the lease as granted the club by the B. C. Agricultural Association, prior to the holding of the sixty-day meet two years ago, was only for one year, and that the claims of the club to be in possession of a five-year lease, in untenable because the B. C. Agricultural Association had not the power to grant it. It will be pointed out by the city solicitor also that the by-law under which the race meet is being held requires a permit being granted the club by the city.

This latter part of the argument is denied by the club. They contend that they have the right to race irrespective of whether the city grants them the permit or not. The grounds are not within the city limits, and the usual permit has been obtained from the Oak Bay council. The club will, of course, be represented at the injunction proceedings by H. W. R. Moore, and it is possible that a better understanding will be arrived at then.

It is believed that the city would grant the permit, which it claims to be necessary for the club to undertake to comply with certain conditions, one of which is that there shall be no betting allowed. That proviso would, it is said, kill the race meet, and the club is of the opinion that it is being insisted upon with that special purpose in view. The club stands on the legality of betting within the limits of the Miller Act.

At Monday night's meeting of the board of directors of the Victoria Country Club, the matter was discussed and it was decided to bring the matter up by requesting the report which he understood the city solicitor was instructed to draw up in connection with the matter. He was promptly cleared, however, by Mayor Morley, who stated that the matter had been referred to the city solicitor, but not with any instructions to report back.

As the president was on the point of adjourning at the time nothing more was done, but the summary disposal of the matter aroused a feeling of dissatisfaction.
