The concert in the Exmouth street church last evening was well attended. The new Y. M. A. Orchestrae, under the leadership of Professor Williams, meade its first appearance and, considering the fact that barely three months have elapsed since its organisation, rendered five selections in a very creditable manner. Other numbers on the programme were: Orion Mole Quartette; solo, Mrs. S. McGowan; reading, Mr. Robinson; solo, Rev. L. A. McLean; selo, Miss Beatrice Irvine; violin obligate, Miss M. Miles.

In the Concert in the Exmouth street church last evening was well attended. The new Y. M. A. A. orchestrae, under the lead at the start, but reliance in them. Mr. Ross felt that the larger number of the horses competing in the Fredericton races would be on hand for the Mcospath Park meet. July 22, 23 and 24 are the datas selected for the meet. The programme is as follows:

First Day, Thursday, July 22nd—Race No. 1—Free-for-all stake, trot and pace, purse $400.

Second day, Friday, July 23rd—Race No. 2-21 stake, trot and pace, purse $300.

The race was run on the grass inside of the cinder path, the runners both preferring that footing. St. Yves took the lead at the start, but relinquished it at the first quarter to the Englishman, who set a fast pace, doing the first mile in 450 and then having a lead of 125 yards.

Local horsemen are displaying much interest.

Speaking with a representative of The Sun yesterday afternoon John Ross, secretary of the Gentlemen's Driving Club, under whose auspices the races are being held, stated that he expected the events would be most exciting. A fast string of horses will doubtless participate in them.

Mr. Ross felt that the larger number of the horses competing in the Fredericton races would be on hand for the Moosepath Park meet.

On Monday, May 24th, suburban train will be run, St. John to Welsford and return, leaving St. John at 300 yards the best of it. At the end of the fifth mile, the Britisher had added another 150 and was 450 yards in front, the time being 25.35. The tenth mile was reached in 53.11. Shrubb by this time having over a lap to the good. He continued to lay out the pace and at the fifteenth mile had a lap and a half to his credit, the distance being done in 1.22.22. Here it before.

weif, that's what fred Thrai, greatest of jockeys, is doing right now. For the first time since he was 13, the "Flying Dutchman" is living the life of an every day citizen. He eats everything he wants; he goes to the theater; he refires when sleepy and rolls out when he feels like it. It's a novelly and Taral is playing it to the limit.

When winning races Taral accumulated a fortune, but could not enjoy it. Forced to rigorous training to keep down to weight, he could only nibble at things warranted not to increase, fweight; he went to bed with the chickens and arose with the lark. But

MIDGET HUGHES.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 20 — The honor of being the littlest player in the American Association belongs to Johnny Hughes, the clever backstop of the Louisville team.

Despite his lack of inches, and he doesn't seem much bigger than a pint measure when lined up alongside some of the giants, Hughes is one fine and fancy performer back of the wind pad. He is a living exemplification of the old saw that good goods come in small packages.
