

WHITEWASH BRUSH USED BY MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS

Hon. Mr. Veniot Endeavors, by His Report, to Make the Public Believe That All Was Fair and Above Board in the Shippegan Allegations—Hon. B. F. Smith Who Attended Hearing Gives the House Evidence from the Testimony Which Veniot Wanted Suppressed.

Fredericton, N.B., April 3.—The House met at three o'clock.

Mr. LeBlanc presented the report of the committee on the Shippegan allegations. Notices of inquiry were given as follows:

By Mr. Smith (Albert): As to whether the position of registrar of Westmorland County has been offered to Col. B. H. Anderson; as to whether A. J. Carter mentioned in the comptroller general's report, as having drawn the respective sums of $250.00, $425.00, and $500.00 is one and the same person, and as to the relationship of the said A. J. Carter with Mr. B. F. Smith.

By Mr. Dixon, as to the names of the attorneys employed by Chief Inspector Wilson under the intoxicating liquor act and as to whether he acts on his own initiative in selecting the same.

By Mr. Campbell as to the acreage of the ungranted land in the Blue Bell tract, suitable for settlement.

On the order of the day being called, the House took up consideration of the report of the Honorable Minister of Public Works on the inquiry into road matters in the parish of Shippegan, Gloucester County.

The report, having been read to the House by the clerk, Mr. Smith (Charles) said that he considered it unfortunate that the report of the Honorable Minister had not been printed for the convenience of the members of the House. It was his intention to move a resolution, touching upon the matter, but, before doing so, he wished to make some observations regarding the inquiry.

He said that there had been delay in bringing down the Auditor General's report last session, consequently the committee did not have opportunity to go fully into the account. He had been informed of certain irregularities in connection with road matters, and had brought the matter to the notice of the Committee on Public Accounts. He had not made formal charges but allegations, and had asked for an investigation.

The Honorable Minister had been called to the committee room and, when told by him (Smith) that there had been duplication in the pay list, and that the names of the boys eight or twelve years of age, the Honorable Minister had said that it was all nonsense. It was not his intention to criticize to any great extent the findings, but he did propose to call attention to some matters which the Minister had overlooked.

He then told of his visit to Shippegan for the purpose of attending the inquiry, of the difficulties he had encountered in reaching the place, owing to the irregular service. He said he questioned the propriety of the Honorable Minister holding such an inquiry, although he undoubtedly had authority to do so. He thought it would have been better had the minister referred the matter to an impartial tribunal. He wished it understood that he (Smith) was not active in the matter, by way of retaliation, his object being to put a stop to such irregularities.

Referring to the inquiry he pointed out that the name of Alphonse Robichaud had appeared on the pay roll under three different headings. Notwithstanding the fact that his attention had been called to the matter by the Secretary of the Department, Robichaud did not in the following month correct the error. One boy, whose name appeared on the pay list, was only eight years of age and that being so, he was unable to see how the Honorable Minister had been able to arrive at the conclusion that no wrong was done. It looked to him (Smith) that there had been a deliberate attempt to defraud, and he had reason to believe that there had been collusion between Supervisor McNally and John G. Robichaud, a member of the House.

Continuing the speaker read extracts from the evidence of Alphonse Robichaud and Supervisor McNally, for the purpose of illustrating his point that the Honorable Minister in his report had overlooked some important features of the evidence.

He pointed out that there were matters in the evidence, not touched upon by the report of the Hon. Minister, and that the evidence of Supervisor McNally was taken in preference to that of other witnesses, which would have substantiated the charges. McNally, in his evidence, admitted that he had sent in incorrect pay sheets to the Department. What sort of a system was it when the evidence of that man was taken? It was not necessary to go farther in refutation of the evidence of McNally. If he sent in incorrect pay sheets, very little could be known about the nature of the work that had been done. Another matter, which had been overlooked by the Hon. Minister was the fact that Alphonse Robichaud had gone to the house of the Hon. Minister for a day and a half for which time he was shown on the pay sheets.

Hon. Mr. Veniot—"I referred to that in my report. I said his brother drove the truck during that time and was not paid."

Mr. Smith, continuing, said that the evidence also showed that Alphonse Robichaud broke his Ford car, and his brother drove 35 miles at the expense of the Province and brought him back. The Hon. Minister did not touch upon this in his attempt to clear John G. Robichaud, M.P.P., but he (Smith) intended to touch upon the matter. The evidence showed that John G. Robichaud went to the post office and took a cheque made out in the name of August Millet, whose name mysteriously appeared in the report of the Minister of Public Works upon an investigation held by him on the 18th day of May, 1918.

Whereas, the Minister in said report had ignored portions of the evidence, which showed material irregularities in connection with the Public Works Department, and

Whereas, several findings of the Minister are calculated to whitewash irregular actions on the part of several employees, notably in the case of Alphonse G. Robichaud, who appeared on the pay roll as "Alphonse," "Alphonse G." and "Alphonse J." Robichaud, so that he could draw money not only for work done by him personally but also for work done by other men who should have received the cheques in their own names, and

Whereas, it appears from the evidence that John G. Robichaud, a member of this House for the County of Gloucester, had work done by Government employees upon his own property at the public expense, and

Whereas, it also appears from the evidence that John G. Robichaud, without authority, endorsed the name of at least one employee of the Government upon a cheque for the County of Gloucester, and

Whereas, the findings of the said Minister of Public Works are not supported by the evidence made by him for partisan purposes, and

Further resolved, that the conduct of the said John G. Robichaud, M.P.P., and especially in the matter of endorsement of the cheque as aforesaid, was absolutely illegal, and Further resolved, that in the opinion of this House, the conduct of the Minister of Public Works and of the said John G. Robichaud, M.P.P., deserves the censure of this House.

Had Hacking Cough Couldn't Sleep Nights.

Hacking coughs are very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest, and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in an irritated and inflamed condition.

Don't neglect the hacking cough. You can get rid of it with a few doses of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the most prompt, pleasant and perfect cough remedy known.
