NOT FIT FOR PUBLICATION

Once in an English class the teacher assigned a composition to be written and it had to contain 250 words. The next morning one little boy was asked to read his. This is what he had written: "My uncle was driving his new car one day and he had a puncture. The other 250 words are not fit for publication."

Prize Competition

The Directors of the Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau take pleasure in announcing a Competition which is open to persons over 18 years of age. Prizes totalling the sum of $75.00 will be paid by the Publicity Bureau for articles which, in the opinion of competent judges will help induce people living abroad to visit Nova Scotia.

Subjects

A unique feature of this Competition is that the choice of subject is left entirely to the competitors, the only stipulation in this respect, will be that the subject chosen must relate to Nova Scotia. Possible subjects include an historical episode or stirring or heroic action; a phase of industry such as, fishing, or apple growing; a phase of sport such as trout and salmon fishing, tuna fishing, sword fish harpooning, or moose hunting; scenic attractions; life in woodland or seashore camp; description of a motor tour through the province; the high tides of the Bay of Fundy; Our French Acadian people; the Highland Scotch of Nova Scotia; the ancient fortifications of the Province, such as Annapolis Royal or Louisbourg. Other subjects will occur to interested readers.

Prizes

1. The rules governing the Competition are as follows: The sum of $75 is offered in prizes—a first prize of $100 a second prize of $50, five prizes of $25, and ten prizes of $10, each for the best articles suitable for publication abroad with some interesting phase of Nova Scotia life, industry or history.

2. The idea underlying this Competition is to secure articles which when published abroad will help to attract prospective tourists to Nova Scotia. Accordingly while literary merit will be considered to some extent in awarding prizes, the quality of publicity value will be, of course paramount. Thus words of amateur writers will stand just as good a chance of a prize as will that of the professional writer.

Persons Eligible

3. The Competition is open to any resident of Canada, the United States or Great Britain, over the age of eighteen years. Residents abroad must, however, write from first hand knowledge of this province.

Closing Date

4. Contributions must be received at latest by October 15, 1925, addressed to The Publicity Director, Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau, Province Building, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Length of Article

5. The length of the article should not be less than 1000 words nor more than 2500 words. Each story must be typewritten and should show on the first page the number of words it contains. Typing must be on one side of the paper only.

Not Published Before

6. Each article must also be accompanied by a declaration that it has never been published in its present form.

Number of Articles

7. Competitors may send in any number of articles.

Non de Plume

8. Each article sent in competition must bear a Non de Plume and must be accompanied by a closed envelope bearing the Non de Plume on the outside and inside the name and address of the sender. These envelopes will not be opened until the awards have been made.

Articles Not Returned

9. All articles submitted become the property of the Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau and will not be returned.

10. The judges in this Competition will be: Dr. A. Stanley MacKenzie, President of Dalhousie University; Dr. H. P. MacPherson, President of St. Francis Xavier University; Dr. F. H. Sexton, Principal, Nova Scotia Technical College; Major J. S. Roy, Director Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau; A. J. Campbell, Secretary, Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau.

The decision of the judges must be final and it will be impossible to enter into correspondence in regard to the decisions.

NEW BOOK MAKES ROMANCE OF HISTORY

Tells Story of Canadian Pacific Railway and Building of Dominion

A facetious American once referred to the Canadian Pacific Railway as "Canada on Wheels." Great as it is, the Canadian Pacific would be the last to appropriate such an appellation. It can be truthfully said, however, that to understand the recent history of the Dominion one must know that of the Canadian Pacific. Now at last comes a volume, well illustrated with photographs, which presents that history in its most palatable form—that is, in a form emphasizing the human factor. "The Romance of the Canadian Pacific Railway," by R. G. MacBeth (the Ryerson Press, Toronto, $2.50).

The author, who has a number of historical works to his credit, is singularly well equipped. Apart from his literary skill, he has the advantage of having lived in the Canadian West all his life. He has always been in close touch with the Canadian Pacific, though he is careful to point out that he has never been connected with it and has written and published his book independently.

Mr. MacBeth here traces the amazing story of the company's development into the world's greatest transportation system; of the steamships, of the telegraph and express; colonization; irrigation; hotels and bungalow camps; of its war service and of all its activities, with a wealth of interesting detail which illustrates the brilliant administrative and organizing ability of its executive.

Canadians should be proud, as Mr. MacBeth reminds them, that their country approved the construction of this pioneer transcontinental when the population was only 4,000,000, though the United States had not dared to undertake a similar road till she had ten times that number. The frightful difficulties, political, technical and financial, through which the company's sponsors and founders fought their way to victory are well summarized. For instance, it is recalled that sections of the line north of Lake Superior cost $500,000 a mile to build, and a mule track east of Winnipeg swallowed seven tracks before it was conquered. The author shows that the triumphant accomplishment of the work was especially creditable because it took place in a period of immense depression.

Sir William Van Horne, general manager and later president, that man of tireless energy, vision and determination, is the central figure in the volume and there are many anecdotes illustrating his versatile character. But all the other great men of the company—Mont Stephen, Shaughnessy, Beatty, Angus and a host of others—receive their due. Lord Shaughnessy's fine words: "The shareholders and directors of the company have always been impressed with the idea that the interests of the company are intimately connected with those of the Dominion and so effort or expense has been spared to help in promoting the development of the whole country" are amply backed by the company's deeds. And the author makes a statement which is very a propos when he says: "The country and the railway, in such a case as this, must stand or fall together. Each is necessary to the prosperity of the other. Hence for one to attempt the destruction of the other is practically a roundabout but effective way for that one to commit suicide."

OBITUARY

Frances Baker
The death of Frances Baker, aged twenty, youngest daughter of Captain and Mrs. E. O. Baker of Margareville, N. S., took place on Thursday, May the fourteenth at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. H. Parks in Somerville, Massachusetts. The remains, accompanied by Capt. Baker, and two sisters, Mrs. G. M. Sabeau and Mrs. F. H. Parks, were brought home via Yarmouth, reaching their destination on Tuesday, May the nineteenth. A largely attended funeral service, conducted by the Rev. A. H. Whitman, was held in the Baptist Church, Margareville, on Wednesday afternoon. Old and young to whom she had endeared herself by unflinching friendliness and gaiety crowded to pay their last tribute of respect. Numerous floral offerings bore beautiful testimony to the sympathy of friends everywhere. The choir sang special music, which included a trio by Mrs. Emily Mrs. Downe, and Mrs. Whitman; and a duet by Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Whitman.

Born in 1905, Frances was always a delicate child. She early gave evidence of marked musical ability and appreciation. When only thirteen, her paying of accompaniments to songs and games made the children's Play Hour not only a possibility, but contributed largely to the success of that endeavor. An unusually fond of children, she always found time to do for them, those little things that mean so much to children's hearts. "Kindness which most leave undone or despise." She spent one year at Acadia Ladies' Seminary, specializing in her beloved music. Her loss will be greatly felt by the choir of the Baptist Church where she has been a most helpful singer. Their sense of this loss the choir has expressed by giving to the Church a pointed white rose petals to be used as part of the church decoration, and to be kept up as a memorial to her.

In March she went to visit her sisters and other relatives in Boston. A slight cold developed into pneumonia and ended with a constitutionally weak heart, in spite of skillful care, proved fatal.

Her body was laid to rest in the old Baptist cemetery close to the blue waters of the Bay of Fundy. She is survived by her parents, Captain and Mrs. E. O. Baker, two brothers, Captain Clair D. Baker of Margareville, and Murray of Boston, and three sisters, Mrs. G. M. Sabeau, Mrs. L. M. Morton, Yarmouth, and Mrs. F. H. Parks.

Among those who attended the funeral from out of town were: Dr. L. M. Morton, Yarmouth; Mrs. and Miss J. A. Balcom, Quincey; Mr. and Mrs. N. G. MacDonnahan, Mapleton, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Bradford MacDonnahan, Mapleton, Mass.; Mrs. Fred Groves, Belmont, Mass.; Mrs. Cosman, Alleen Harris and Fred Harris, Boston; Rev.
