"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE"

These words or expressions having the same meaning are contained in hundreds of the letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who had suffered agonies from falling of womb; others from women who had escaped dangerous surgical operations, as the tumors and ulcers had been removed by the action of Orange Lily; and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, leucorrhoea, painful periods, etc. For all these and the other troubles known in general as Women's Diseases, never-failing cure. It is applied direct to the suffering organs, and its operation is certain and beneficial. As a trial actually proves its merit, I hereby offer to send, absolutely free, a box worth $10, sufficient for ten days' treatment, to every suffering woman who will write for it. Enclose 3 stamps. ## HORSE SENSE

The superiority of the horse to any other motive power on the farm rests in his greater flexibility and versatility. He is adapted to a greater variety of tasks, and will also meet the requirements of any one of many kinds of work under a greater variety of conditions. His "horse sense," his ability to grasp and respond to the wish of his driver, and even to solve certain problems on his own account if need be, gives him a value that can never be attained by mechanical apparatus.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Seattle Post-Intelligencer
Justina Wayne, English dramatic actress, finds an explanation of the question as to why Shakespearean plays seldom win financial reward in what she terms Shakespeare's inability to give his productions catchy titles. She suggests a repertory of the bard's plays rechristened to meet popular demands for stimulating titles. She suggests "How Could You, Juliet?" as more appropriate than plain "Romeo and Juliet." She also would substitute "Call of the Flesh" for "The Merchant of Venice," "Strangled in Bed" for "Othello," "The Nutty Prince" for "Hamlet," "Hon. Whom Do You Love" for "Henry V.," "Big Dick" for "Richard III.," "The Knife" for "Julius Caesar," and "Moonlight and Honey-suckle" for "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

A TRIUMPH OF TEMPER

Youth's Companion
A quick temper is highly undesirable, but fortune sometimes is no moralist. An Indian prospector in the Copper Lake region of the Canadian Northwest who stumbled over a rusty spur of quartz turned in rage and struck at the quartz with his pick. The blow revealed gold. Within a few minutes he had opened a vein of almost pure gold four inches wide and several feet deep.

An indignant citizen rings up regarding a newspaper report which alleges his death from influenza. "Look here," he says on the telephone, "do you know my death from flu has appeared in print?" "Oh, yes," the telephone girl replies, and adds: "where are you speaking from?"

Miss Soffleigh (watching revolving light of the lighthouse) "How patient sailors are!"
Const Guard: "How, indeed?"
Miss Soffleigh: "They must be. The wind has blown out the light six times, and they still keep lighting it again."

An itinerant preacher was plodding along on his way to the home of one of the brethren, when a young man driving a team of horses overtook him, and invited him to ride. Gladly accepting, he was soon seated by the youth's side.

"It so chanced that they were in a wild, lonely spot, when the preacher, thinking the opportunity too good to be lost, turned to the young man and abruptly asked:

"Young man, are you prepared to die?"
The youth had been eying the preacher suspiciously for some time, and now gave a cry, sprang from the wagon, and disappeared as fast as his legs could carry him.

A boy who had a habit of leaving food on his plate was told by his nurse that Mr. Hoover would get after him.

"Well, that makes five," despondently said the boy.
"Five?" asked the nurse. "What do you mean, man?"

"Well," was the answer, "I've always had to mind daddy and mother and Aunt Mary and God, and now here comes along Mr. Hoover."

A young Irish placed the first time he was placed on a boat arrested a man for disorderly conduct. When stating his case at the police court he was asked by the magistrate: "Did you give the man warning before taking him into custody?"

"I did, yer honor. I said to him 'Dispare!' and he refused."

Friend: "So you are in the Aviation Corps?" I thought you enlisted in the Cavalry?"
Friend: "At a dun change."

Friend: "What was the reason?"
Rastus: "Well, suh, foh one thing, an airplane, after it throws yo' out, very seldom walks over an bites you."

A New Idea

Mrs. Clymer was giving a little dinner and her housemaid left without notice during the morning.

In despair the good lady knelt her new cook.

"Jane," she asked, tearfully, "what shall I do? Can't you wait at table?"

"Not in the dining room," was cookey firm response. "But I've had some fifteen experience, so if you'll line up your guests and send them out here with their plates, I'll see that they get all that's comin' to them!"

The Force of Habit

Parson—"Who is making that terrible noise and blowing that terrible language in your house, Mrs. Peterson?"

Mrs. Peterson—"It's only my husband. He wants to go to church and can't find his prayerbook."

Too Deep For Him

An ambitious young author sent a humorous paragraph to the editor of a daily paper. Time passed and he heard nothing, nor was it printed. So he wrote to inquire about it.

"I sent you a joke about 10 days ago. I have heard nothing respecting its safe receipt and should be glad to hear whether you have seen it."

The editor replied: "Your joke arrived safely, but up to the present we have not seen it."—Philadelphia North American.

It was the pride of his heart and the envy of his village companions. He treated all inquiries from them as to its value and its authenticity with high scorn.

His employer, after a week of basking in its radiance, asked Giles about its history.

"Giles," he said, "is it a real diamond?"

"Well," said Giles, "if it ain't I've been diddled out of one-and-sixpence."

ST AGATHA.

There departed this life at St. Agatha Friday evening at 7.45 o'clock, Carolina Busch, the beloved wife of Mr. Charles Montag, after an illness extending over a period of four years.

The deceased was a native of Petersburg and had attained the age of 65 years, 5 months and 3 days. She was married on June 6th, 1876 and the couple lived for many years on the Montag homestead south of Petersburg. Fifteen years ago they retired to St. Agatha. The deceased leaves her husband and seven adult children: Leander, Jacob, Charles, Albert, Carolina (Mrs. Gregor Meyer), Clara and Maryanna. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock from the family residence to the St. Agatha Catholic church and cemetery.

With Fingers!
Corns Lift Off
Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug Freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of Freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying Freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus take twice.
