

Basketball playoffs this weekend

The UNB Red Bloomers will host the Atlantic conference basketball playoffs this weekend by virtue of their first place finish in the league after downing SMU 71-48 and 81-66 last weekend.

By MAC BREWER

The four teams competing in the playoffs are the University of Dalhousie Tigerettes, the St. Mary's Belles, the University of PEI Lady Panthers, and of course our own UNB Red Bloomers.

It proves to be a tough weekend for the Bloomers as their arch-rivals, the Dal Tigerettes will undoubtedly be itching to make up for the three losses UNB handed them this season. These games were all close and were decided only in the last few minutes by the Red Bloomers' superior conditioning and rugged, fast-paced offensive style of play.

M.V.P. for the Red Bloomers would have to be Cathy Maxwell averaging over 17 points a game and outstanding as a rebounder also. Her 29 and 27 point performances against SMU last weekend bear this out.

National Team member Claire Mitton is second in the scoring race for the Bloomers, averaging 11.4 points a game and is the team's leading rebounder with approximate 8.1 per game.

Patty Sheppard and Lois Scott at guard position are the undoubted top defensive players on the team and in my opinion the best in the conference.

Kathy Jennings and Moira Pryde are co-captains and lead the team both offensively and defensively on the floor. Moira seems to understand players and their problems and knows best how to deal with them. Kathy is the most experienced player on the team and the rest of the squad look to her for leadership. Carolyn Gammon, Marleigh Moran, and Laura Sanders are all representatives on the Provincial Winter Games Team and this speaks for their ability more than anything I could say.

UNB opens the AUA's against the UPEI Lady Panthers Friday night at 6:00 p.m., followed by the Dal Tigerettes vs St. Mary's Belles game. Losers of both games will play in the Consolation game at 1:00 p.m. Saturday while the winners (any bets that UNB and Dal won't win?) meet at 3:00 p.m. to decide the championship and who represents the league at the Nationals in two weeks. GC BLOOMERS GO!

Wrestling AUA's this weekend too !

The UNB Black Bears are off this weekend to Newfoundland to compete in the AUA's playoffs. The guys are looking good this year and perhaps their only real competition will come from the highly experienced team from Acadia who tied them on points last weekend at SFX.

Teams from Memorial University, St. Francis Xavier, Acadia, Dalhousie, and Moncton will also be competing in the playoffs and while once again the squad will probably be fielding the smallest team at the AUA's they should come out on top due to their better experience and skill.

Going to the meet and backups for the competition are:
Paul Simmonds - 109 lb. weight
Dan Berman - 126 lb class
Doug McGee - 134 lb class
Gabriel El-Kouhry - 142 lb class
Leo McGee - 150 lb class (co-captain)

Bob Pelletier - 158 lb class
Dave Burchill - 167 lb class
Perry Kukkonen - 177 lb class (co-captain)
Brian Dunham - 190 lb class
Chuck (Julio, Jaws) Cortes - 220 lb class
Rob (not Bob) Lockwood - 220 plus unlimited

BACK UPS
Dave Airey - 134 lb class
Grant McMurray - 142 lb class
Tony O'Hara

The competition will start early Friday to hopefully finish Saturday morning. It was pushed ahead to accommodate the players having to leave for the Winter Olympics Saturday afternoon and so as not to hamper their home teams by their absence.

Tom Best has graciously consented to cover it for me as he'll be down there with the swimming team the same week. Thanks Tom I really appreciate it!

Bears win SFX Invitational

The UNB Black Bears won their second straight multi-team competition last weekend as they captured the SFX Invitational with 176 team points. While Acadia also collected 176 points they lost to the UNB team in head-on matches to cause their second place seating.

Although outnumbered in every class, the squad was able to defeat all the teams they faced due to better training and being better prepared mentally and physically.

Taking 1st place in their respective weight classes were Doug McGee (134-16), Leo McGee (150-16), Perry Kukkonen (117-lb.), and Brian Dunham (190-lb.).

Dave Burchill took second place in the 167-lb class and Rob Lockwood, Chuck Cortes, and Paul Simmonds came third in the heavyweight, 220-lb., and 118-lb. classes.
