

“But they will come together at last—for the world’s sake.”

There was silence for a moment, and through it came the joy-chant from the fields:

“Hold up yo hands,
Hold up yo hands,
Bress de Lord for de milk and honey——”

THE END