

- scandalous treatment of, i. 90, 91 and n.
- Osburn, Sarah, dies in Boston Jail of starvation, i. 63 n.
- Otis, James, on the Writs of Assistance, i. 78 ff., 216
- Paine, Tom, a brief account of, i. 232; his pamphlet Common Sense, i. 233-235; denounces the Philadelphians for their mean spirit, ii. 29, 255 and n.
- Parker, Capt. John, i. 159
- Parker, Sir Peter, ii. 154, 159
- Pastorius, quoted, ii. 260
- Patriots, i. 145 ff.; look to the Whigs for support, i. 149; assisted with arms by France, ii. 16; reap the benefit of abandoned British stores, ii. 99; engagement at Brooklyn, ii. 160, 161 ff.; defeat at Fort Washington, ii. 174 ff., 212 ff.; barbarity of, ii. 308 and n.
- Peekskill, ii. 209
- Penn, Governor William, quoted, ii. 251 ff.
- Pennsylvania, ii. 80; refusal to help the settlers to defend the Indian border, ii. 116, 156; Black List of, ii. 257
- Percy, Earl, commanding the 5th Regiment, i. 82 and n.; at Lexington, i. 161 ff.
- Perth Amboy, ii. 231
- Philadelphia, ii. 177 ff.; description of, ii. 251 ff.; influence of the Quakers in, ii. 253 ff.; city entered by Howe, ii. 259
- Philips, Maj.-General, ii. 298; warning to his officers, ii. 302, 303; captures Sugar Hill, ii. 306
- Piggott, Capt., and the case of the Hermione, i. 311
- Pitcairn, Major, at Lexington, i. 160; killed at Bunker Hill, i. 177
- Pitt (Earl of Chatham), on taxation, i. 22 n.; in favour of repeal of the Stamp Act, i. 24; interview with Franklin, i. 217; ambiguous policy of, i. 221; his integrity when Paymaster-General, i. 280
- Port Act, Boston, i. 137; dies an easy death, i. 138
- Porteous, Bishop of London, denounced for holding a service in St. Paul's on Good Friday, i. 246
- Porteous Riots, Edinburgh, i. 243, 250 and n.
- Potter, Hon. Elisha R., his report on slavery in Rhode Island, ii. 137 and n.
- Presbyterians, Scottish, i. 50; missions to Indians, ii. 292
- Pressgang, i. 315 ff.
- Preston, Capt., and the "Boston Massacre," i. 102, 103
- Prince, Rev. Thos., quoted, i. 47
- Puritan influence, i. 60 ff.
- Putnam, Israel, Major-General, i. 40; ii. 5, 18, 115; endeavours to check atrocities, i. 153; at Brookland (Brooklyn), ii. 154 ff.
- Putnam, Rufus, the best native engineer officer in the American army, ii. 42
- Quakers, reception of, in Massachusetts, i. 49; of Pennsylvania, their apathy, ii. 116; treason of, ii. 237, 238; Peace at any—or "British" price, ii. 246, 247; their influence, ii. 253 ff.
- Quebec Act, i. 50, 215, 263
- Queen's Rangers, ii. 241 and n.
- Quincy, Josiah, junr., quoted, i. 29, 103, 225 n.
- Randolph, Peyton, President of the First Continental Congress: letter from General Gage, i. 146 and n., 213, 218
- Reide, Major Thos., i. 325, 326 and n.
- Revere, Paul, his picture of the "Massacre," i. 103 n., 120; under British protection in Boston, 145; his midnight ride to Lexington, i. 159
- Richmond, Duke of, i. 244
- Riedesel, Baron de, commands the German contingent of Burgoyne's force in 1777, i. 276; ii. 298, 299; brilliant exploit near Ticonderoga, ii. 308
- Riedesel, Madame de, follows the campaign, i. 276; ii. 298; at Fort Edward, ii. 319 and n.; at Freeman's Farm, ii. 331; her scathing indictment of Burgoyne, ii. 336; at Saratoga, ii. 338, 339
- Riot Acts, Prof. Dicey on, i. 102
- Riots, Gordon, i. 243, 244; Porteous, Edinburgh, i. 243, 250 and n.; Wilkes, i. 248; Cider, i. 249
- Rittenhouse, David, appeal to Patriots, ii. 177
- Rochambeau de, Admiral, ii. 12
- Rockingham, Marquess of, i. 222
- Rodney, Admiral Sir George, begins naval service as a King's letter boy, i. 299; is accused by Arbuthnot of unfair dealing, i. 301; improves the medical service of the fleet, i.