

Six Doctors Failed to Cure Him.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM WAS THE TROUBLE.

Burdock Blood Bitters

DID MORE THAN SIX DOCTORS COULD DO.

Mrs. Theo. Newell, Argyle Sound, N.S., expresses her opinion of this wonderful blood remedy in the following letter:

"It is with the greatest gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of Burdock Blood Bitters. For years my husband suffered terribly with Erysipelas and Salt Rheum. He was so bad at times that he could not sleep on account of the itching and burning. He had been under the care of six different doctors, but they failed to do him any good. I had read different times of the wonderful cures being made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so advised him to give it a trial. He did so, and after taking five bottles was cured without a doubt. I would strongly advise any person troubled with blood disorders to give B.B.B. a fair trial for I am sure it will cure them."

A number of the citizens are annoyed about the whistle which blows at half-past five in the morning. As it much resembles the fire alarm whistle it startles the sleeper and causes annoyance, especially where illness is in the house, and there is always sickness in some house in a town of this size. We hope that the factory owners may soon find a better way for arousing their employees. The private dwelling house which is being erected by James McNeris is about completed. Miss Jessie McLean, after spending a few days' holidays at her home, has returned to Detroit to resume her position as head milliner. THE STAGE

"All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players."

"RESURRECTION."

Notwithstanding the heavy down-pour of rain, Tolstoi's great play "Resurrection" was presented at the Grand last evening to a fair sized audience. The play is a strong one and consequently needs a strong cast of actors. The company of last night was quite strong and very good. The play throughout was thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Bernadine Risse as "Katusha Maslova," the wronged girl, was far ahead of the rest of the cast, although Tichon, a peasant, and T. S. James as Prince Dmitri Ivanovitch Nekhludoff, did very well. The other members of the cast were very good.

LETTER BOX

SPELLING PROBLEM.

Editor of The Planet:

Dear Sir,—Having noticed in a recent copy of the Weekly Planet, March 26th, the statement made by your Louisville correspondent, that in a spelling match held about that date I mis-spelt the word "many-colored." I desire space in your columns to contradict this statement as incorrect.

Your correspondent was either mis-informed or was at the time ignorant of the different ways in which the word may be spelt. If the mistake, as the correspondent calls it, had been printed as I spelt it, I would have nothing to say, for in that case any educated person would know it was the ignorance of the correspondent and not a mistake on the part of the speller, which led to the statement as given in your paper.

Thanking you for the space I have taken up in your columns, I am,
Yours truly,
CLAUDE M. WALKER.

REASON IN HIS REGRET.

He mourned the Late Mr. Brown and Mourned Him Reverently.

"I have come," said the stranger with the mild face and the side whiskers to the undertaker in the little town, "to make some inquiries concerning the late Mr. Brown. What kind of a grave did you give him?"

"Mr. Joseph Brown, sir," said the undertaker, "was a poor man when he died, and his widow could not afford really high class obsequies. In fact, there is no harm in stating that there is no stone over the grave at all. Mrs. Brown left here very shortly after her husband's death and has not since returned. No one in our town has seen her subsequently."

The stranger pondered a moment or two and then drew his chair up to the undertaker.

"Your information agrees perfectly with what I had supposed," he said. "Now I want you to erect the handsomest stone you've got over the grave, and on this stone I wish the following inscription to be cut and gilded:

"I MOURN HIS LOSS HOW DEEPLY NONE CAN TELL."
RICHARD ROBINSON."

The stranger here produced a large roll of bills.

The undertaker was delighted. "Certainly, sir. It shall be done exactly as you direct. You must have been a great friend of his, sir, I take no doubt." And he rubbed his hands cheerfully.

"No, I never saw him in my life," said the other.

"What? You astonish me. How comes it, then, that you mourn his loss so deeply, if I may ask?"

"I married his widow."—San Francisco Examiner.

Dr. Price-Price—This prescription will cost you about 75 cents at any drug-store. If that doesn't cure your cold, I'll try another. Five dollars, please.

Patient—Why, you've got a cold yourself, doctor. Taking anything for it?

Dr. Price-Price—Oh, just a little sugar and lemon.—Philadelphia Press.

Proof Positive.
Stranger—Have you a good catarrh cure?
Druggist—Yes, sir; I have the very thing you want.
Stranger—Can you recommend it?
Druggist—Sure. I have catarrh myself, and I've used nothing but this preparation for nearly twenty years.—Chicago News.

Horribly Practical.
The Aunt (telling the story of Sleeping Beauty)—What do you think did the prince give the king's daughter to awake her? Well, how does your mamma wake you up? What does she give you in the morning?
Elsie—A spoonful of cod liver oil, Auntie.—Town and Country.

The Professor.
"Astigmatism," explained the doctor, "is an abnormal condition of the eyes, in which they appear to have different planes of vision and you can see better with one than with the other."
"I see," observed the professor. "One pupil is more apt than the other."

No Substitute.
Little Elizabeth was impatiently demanding a piece of bread and butter. Her mother was busy and said: "Have patience, Elizabeth." To which Elizabeth replied: "I don't want patience. I want bread and butter."—Little Chronicle.

VARICOCELE NERVOUS DEBILITY CURED.

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

If you have transgressed against the laws of nature, you must suffer. Self abuse, later excesses and private diseases have wrecked thousands of promising lives. Treat with scientific physicians and be cured. Avoid quacks. E. A. Sidney, of Toledo, says: "At the age of 16, I learned a bad habit and at 19 contracted a serious disease. I treated with a dozen doctors, who all promised to cure me. They got my money and I still had the disease. I had given up hope when a friend advised me to consult Drs. K. & K., who had cured him. Without any confidence I called on them, and Dr. Kennedy agreed to cure me or no pay. After taking the New Method Treatment for six weeks I felt like a new man. The drink ceased, wormy veins disappeared, nerves grew stronger, hair stopped falling out, urine became clear and my sexual organs vitalized. I was entirely cured by Dr. Kennedy and recommend him from the bottom of my heart."
