THE CHURCH OF CHRIST IN COREA

With Illustrations from photographs.

Mr. Fenwick has written one of those rare books—an autobiographical missionary record. Like John G. Paton's famous work, it is a latter-day addition to The Acts of the Apostles, and in this case the apostles are the Koreans themselves.

While the book is primarily a history of the spread of Christianity in Corea, it is incidentally a plea for a return to the missionary methods of the early Christian Church, and a convincing illustration of what may be accomplished by those methods.

APOSTOLIC OPTIMISM, AND OTHER SERMONS

THE EPISTLES OF ST. PETER

By many this is considered to be the best of Mr. Jowett's books. "It is not a commentary but a clear and concise setting-forth of the principles of the Christian life as reflected in these epistles. It is characterized by felicity of expression, richness of experience and discriminating knowledge of the inner life of life."—American Journal of Theology.

"Dr. Jowett is one of the most attractive of preachers . . . his latest work will no doubt find many admirers.
