A WEIRD DISCOURSE

In the Hamilton Herald, of February 7, we find a sermon by Rev. Mr. Allen on the subject of “Why I am a Protestant.” A careful reading of his remarks justifies us in saying that he might be anything but a preacher intent upon serving the truth. As his Protestantism rests, according to his words, upon misrepresentation, prejudice and ignorance of things Catholic, we are not surprised that the non-Catholic scholar views him and his kind with contempt.

A “CLASSY” PROTESTER

As a protestor Rev. Mr. Allen is, beyond question, “very classy.” He began, however, very graciously—plianisimo. He conceded (and this was very good of him) that some of the noblest characters in the world to-day were Catholics—then the gentleman made things hum until he got tired of using the word “Catholic.”

MR. ALLEN AS A DISCOVERER

Out of the reference library he hid himself to a public library for his weapons. There he found a book—a vague, phantasmal book—for he gives neither title nor author, which brought him to a standstill with locked breath and dilated eye-ball. He looked at it with horror.

MR. ALLEN VERSUS PROTESTANT

Despite the fact that the methods of object to are denounced by Dr. Schaaf as untrue, uncharitable, unchristian, some preachers will persist in employing. Drawing upon the stores of his boundless ignorance, Mr. Allen speaks of the “idol worship of Mary as a Mohammedan, or Christian Science, or Buddhist, or Confucian, or atheistic, or agnostic.”

A SAMPLE PROTEST

Rev. Mr. Allen protested against “the idolatrous worship of Mary as a virgin, whereas in St. Matthew it was found that she had three or four sons besides Jesus.” This assertion is worthy of the mentality displayed in the sermon.

MR. ALLEN AS A STUDENT

The reverend gentleman told his auditors that he was not exaggerating or misrepresenting facts. He was not exaggerating when he declared that all laws should be subjected to the approval of the Church.

THE POPE AND MR. FAIRBANKS

Chicago Evening American. A citizen writes us as follows: “Will you tell me how it is that you haven’t commented on Mr. Fairbanks, former Vice-President of the United States?”

Virgil.” A childish calumny, indeed, but worthy of him. What a contrast between Mr. Allen’s piping and the sonorous notes of Protestant classical writers bearing witness that, according to Lecky, the Catholic reverence for the virgin has done much to elevate and purify the ideal woman and to soften the manners of men.

To a critic of one of our paragraphs we beg to submit Dr. Toussaint’s words on the Catholic Church. In his “Democracy in America,” he says that the Catholic Church places all human capacities upon the same level. It subjects the wise and the ignorant, the man of genius and the vulgar crowd, to the details of the same creed.

STARVE IT OUT

Yellow journalism is the greatest curse of the age, being the more scandal than all other forms of evil taken together. It is a magnifying glass through which the public is enabled to see scandals that otherwise would have escaped notice.

Mohammedan, or Christian Science, or Buddhist, or Confucian, or atheistic, or agnostic. This is a republic which recognizes officially no religion, which is forbidden by its constitution to recognize officially any religion. Here all religions and all religious teachers are on an equal footing.

In Rome it is not so. Rome, historically, sentimentally, and actually, is the home of the Popes for ages. It is the Pope’s liberality and generosity that keeps open the Vatican and St. Peter’s, with their beautiful treasures, to the travelers of the world. The Pope is an old man, undergoing voluntary imprisonment because of his faith.

follows that they in their turn think nothing of allowing their children to read it. Thus generation after generation is corrupted by this awful yellow peril. How is this state of affairs to be remedied? This is the question which, it would seem, is most difficult to answer. Yet, there is a remedy, and a sure one too, if applied properly.

SOME DAYS

Some days there are when life and love seem best gifts from God above; Some days when sky and sun and sea bring sweetest thoughts of life to me; Some days heartaches but trifles seem; And haunting cares an idle dream—Some days.
