

The Farmers' Market

WINNIPEG MARKET LETTER

Office of The Grain Growers' Grain Company Limited, March 18, 1916.

Wheat—The feature of last week's wheat markets was the weakness in Liverpool. This was at first ascribed to the possibility of separate peace with Turkey, thus opening the Balkanides for the passage of Russian wheat. Later there was talk of an earlier end of the whole war than had hitherto been expected. These rumors suggest the question of whether present prices are too high if the war were actually at an end. It was noticeable during the past week that the markets on this side declined very little, in spite of Liverpool weakness. Chicago was strengthened by new reports of crop damage and at times our markets were assisted by American buying. On the week Winnipeg May shows a decline of 2*c* and July 2*c*.

Oats—Future prices show a gain of 1*c* to 2*c* for the week. There were no wide fluctuations and only a moderate amount of trading. No doubt oats values will be affected in a large measure by the action of the wheat markets.

Barley—Barley was very dull, with prices somewhat weaker and very light offerings.

Flax—Flax prices declined 2*c* to 2*c* on the week's business. Trading was light and there was no special feature to the market.
