The bands were strongly represented, both bugle and brass bands leading the turnout.

The mustered a splendid phalanx of khaki, at the armouries and from there they marched in full military style to the church, followed by hundreds of admirers. The scene outside of the church was one of animation. Many spectators had gathered to see the men who may be called upon to go to meet the Germans at any moment. Solemnly they filed into the church and after them followed a stream of civilians. There was, not-included the set of the church and after them followed a stream of civilians. the church and after them followed a stream of civilians. There was, notwithstanding the large capacity of the building an overflow and even a number of the soldiers had, perforce, to remain in the vestibule, while the services proceeded. Like scenes have never been recorded in the history of St. Judes.

The service of prayer was excellently adapted to the occasion and the Rev. C. E. Jeakins was in eloquent form and his address will be long remembered by the soldiers of the 38th, and 32nd. Taking as his text, the warring civilization, and such was sin, and 32nd. Taking as his text, the

The "I will trust Club' held one of the finest meetings it has ever cele-brated on Saturday night when there was a magnificent rally of girls to hear Mr T. F. Best speak upon the Y. M. C. A. work at Valcartier eamp The stories he told and the incidents he depicted were full of human inter-est to the ladies. Little had they real-ized the magnitude of the work acest to the ladies. Little had they realized the magnitude, of the work accomplished until Mr Best, in his genial manner, gave them an insight into the doings of fthe great camp of soldiers. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the speaker for the excellence of his address.

Miss Anguish sang sweetly and well and refreshments served afterwards completed an evening greatly enjoyed.

One of the greatest things in his tory was occurring at the present time. It was something far larger and more comprehensive than we ever the dreamed of. What was happening in Europe was fearful. The events of the past two months made us realize of what we Britishers were made. Where is there, in this time of great calamity room for Christianity? What have we Christians to say on this great matter. It proceeded without any regard of all teachings of Christ. War was contrary to all fundamentals of Christianity. What did it all mean; It belled all promises of Christianity. What did it all mean; It belled all promises of Christianity is colored and christian faith. It was not the support and christian faith. Antwerp, which Napoleon called "a pistol pointing at the heart of England," the commercial port of Belgium and one of the most strongly fortified cities in the world, which has now surrendered to the Germans, is on the River Scheldt, sixty miles from its mouth. This river flows for forty-five miles through Dutch territory before entering Belgium. Under existing conditions it would be impossible for Germany to use Antwerp for a naval base without violating the neutrality of the Netherlands. Antwerp is 180 miles, from London, and in England the fear has been expressed that with this city as a German base Zeppelin alreitips could be used to attack the English coast line and even London. The distance from Antwerp to the English coast is less than one hundred miles.
