DELTA FAIR A RECORD BREAKER

Fine Class of Exhibits at Centre Leeds Annual Agricultural Event

Delta, Sept. 22—A bumper crowd which exceeded all expectations and made necessary the re-selling of numerous admission tickets through use of all those available, was one of the big things which was provided by the Delta Fair Association here to-day. Secretary Hanna estimated when he closed up his booth to-night that fully two thousand five hundred people had passed through the gates during the day, which, with the attendance of six hundred the previous day, makes a total of well over three thousand people. A record breaker so far as the Delta Fair is concerned. Delta had record-breaking weather, too, yesterday, and Old Sol more than made amends for his downcast countenance the day before. When it is taken into consideration that the entries were well up to the total of other years, it will be agreed that the management did not fail at all badly and that the people were given the full worth of their money.

From all quarters of the surrounding country the crowd came by the Canadian Northern trains, by the now becoming plentiful automobile, by the still popular horse and buggy and on foot. Vehicles of all kinds were parked at every available stand within the enclosure, while the elderly farmers and farmeresses saw the sights, while the hired man and his best girl nibbled ice cream cones or had their tinnies taken together, and while those unattached tried to knock the Kaiser's eyes out via the baseball route or were interviewed by the recruiting officers. The men in khaki were very busy during the day and succeeded in securing a number of recruits. The pipe band of the 8th Canadian Mounted Rifles was present and did a lot in the way of stirring up the fire of patriotism, as did the Lyn Brass Band of sixteen pieces, augmented by three members of the 41st Regimental Band, Brockville, Frank Baldwin, "Cap" LeClair and A. E. Sugg.

The Women's Institute held a tag day and nearly everybody on the grounds wore the Red Cross tag. Leading exhibitors were the following: Horses—Messrs Hazelton, Delta; Loucks & Son, Frankville; Hubert Jeffreys, Charlton; L. Hill, Delta; A. J. Kendrick, Lyndhurst; S. Gilbert, Delta; S. Reid, Lyndhurst; R. Gardner, Addison; A. Willows, Philipsville; C. Sheffield, Lyndhurst; W. Coon, Elgin.

Cattle—H. Imerson & Son, Chantry; Rowser Bros., Delta; W. Russell, Delta; W. Steyens, Philipsville; S. Gilbert, Delta; A. Stevens, Philipsville; Joseph Hudson, Lyn; H. Connor, Frankville; A. Greenham, Philipsville.

Sheep—H. Imerson & Son, Chantry; A. Stevens, Philipsville; W. Burt, Philipsville; Bowser Bros., Delta; W. A. Miller, Rockspring; J. Fry, Soperton.

Swine—A. Stevens, Philipsville; B. Bresee, Delta; S. Gilbert, Delta; A. Greenham, Philipsville.

Poultry—Mrs. LaPointe, Tin Cap; B. Dorman, Smith's Falls; F. Lawson, Delta; W. Holliday, Delta; B. Bresee, Delta.

Dairy—Loucks & Son, Frankville; W. Percival, Glen Buell; S. Whaley, Delta; Mrs. McMachin, Delta; M. Kibborn, Delta; Mrs. Scott, Addison; F. Witse, Sweet's Corners; J. Barlow, Delta; A. Holliday, Delta; A. Slack, Delta; I. Mustard, Elgin.

Roots and vegetables—J. Hutchings, Delta; W. Chant, Delta; R. Chant, Delta; S. Gilbert, Delta; P. Hillebrand, Delta; P. Bresee, Delta; A. Slack, Delta; T. Jones, Delta; S. Whaley, Delta; T. Moulton, Chantry; J. Kirkland, Morton; W. Stevens, Philipsville.

Ladies' Work—Mrs. Scott, Addison; Mrs. Fulford, Lyn; Miss Russell, Delta; Mrs. Haskins, Delta; Miss Phelps, Delta; Mrs. Irvine, Smith's Falls; J. Kirkland, Morton; Mrs. Dixon, Lansdowne; Mrs. Elliott, Morewood; W. Percival, Glen Buell; Miss Wright, Athens; Mrs. Lawson, Delta; Mrs. Pennock, Ganancque.

The main building was filled to capacity with a variety of exhibits, including those of S. Whitmore, Delta, gramophones; H. A. Day, Brockville, sewing machines; George W. Warwick, Brockville, automobiles. Frank Halladay, Elgin, has a most unusual exhibit of trophies of the chase, consisting of moose, deer and bear heads, and a swan. History lovers had their sense of curiosity aroused by the display of Richard Warner, Delta, composed of various articles in use in days gone by, collected by him throughout the neighboring country. Old ox shoes, powder horns and primitive plows tell of the hardships which the early settlers faced, while swords and flintlocks also have their story to tell. The dairy, domestic, flowers, roots and vegetables exhibits occupy the remainder of the building, the upper portion being devoted to ladies' work and stuffed animals.

The results of the races were:

Will Buy Remounts for the British Army

Ottawa, Sept. 23—Sir Adam Beck, in charge of the purchase of the remounts for the Canadian Government, announced to-day that he would next week take charge of the horse-purchasing in Canada for the British Government. Sir Adam was in Ottawa and had a conference with the Prime Minister. He stated that he had finished the purchases for the Canadian troops. The second contingent having been supplied, horses will be required now in numbers sufficient only to fill the wastage at the front. Consequently, Sir Adam will take charge of purchases for the British authorities. The latter are offering $165 for light draught and $176 for artillery horses, or about the same average figure as was paid by the Canadian authorities.

Sir Adam Beck also stated that the French Government was now buying remounts in the Dominion, so that the demand will be sufficient to take care of the supply in this country. When the Canadian cavalry in England went to the front as dismounted reinforcements for the first contingent, they left their horses behind, and these were utilized by the second contingent for training purposes. No cavalry horses had been purchased lately for Canadian troops, transport and artillery animals being the kind required.

Drowning Accident at Westport.

The people of Westport village were shocked on Thursday afternoon when it became known for a fact that George E. Blair, a promising young man, aged 32, of the firm of Blair Brothers, lost his life by drowning. The late Mr. Blair kept his horse in a stable near the water front and it is supposed that in the act of getting a pail of water for the animal he missed his footing and fell into the water. This occurred on Monday evening. Deceased had for some weeks past been superintending work on his father's farm, about three miles from the village. He came in on Monday night and was last seen about nine o'clock. His absence from the village did not create suspicion that he had come to harm until Thursday, when it was learned that he had not returned to the farm on Monday night. Searching parties were formed, but failed to get any information as to his movements since Monday. Thursday evening Messrs. E. O. Whitmarsh, G. S. Conley and E. Lindsay commenced dragging the water front channel, finding the remains in the water near where the stable is located.

The late Mr. Blair was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blair. He was particularly well and favorably known, being engaged with his brother Edward in the flour and feed business for several years. His obliging and business qualifications assisted in building up a large business. He leaves to mourn besides his father and mother, three sisters and five brothers. Deceased was an adherent of the Presbyterian church and for some time a member of the choir.
