BALFOUR HAS RESIGNED

It is Now the Liberals Turn to Govern Great Britain.

His Majesty King Edward Has Invited Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman to an Interview and Will Offer Him Mission of Forming a New Cabinet—Sir Henry Will Accept the Responsibility—Cabinet Speculations.

London, Dec. 5.—The political crisis in the United Kingdom reached a climax yesterday when Arthur J. Balfour, the Premier, formally tendered the resignations of himself and the members of his Cabinet to King Edward, who accepted them.

RIGHT HON. A. J. BALFOUR.

His Majesty has invited Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman to an interview this morning, when he will offer him the mission of forming a new Cabinet. Sir Henry will accept the task, and within a few days, even within a few hours, a new Government will be formed.

Campbell-Bannerman Called. A brief announcement was made last night that the Cabinet had resigned, that the King had accepted the resignations of his Ministers, and that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman had been sent for.

It would now appear that the entire program has been cut and dried for some time, and it is even probable that the Liberal leader has already completed his Cabinet, though this, like everything else in connection with British officialdom, must be left to surmise.

Rosebery Not in It. It may be stated as certain that Lord Rosebery will be entirely ignored in the make-up of the new Cabinet, and that John Morley will be one of the chief advisers of Sir Henry in drawing up the list of his official family, which will be presented to His Majesty. Mr. Morley himself is considered likely to go to the Indian Office, and it is probable that Herbert Henry Asquith will be Chancellor of the Exchequer. The Foreign Affairs portfolio will go either to Lord Elgin or Sir Edward Grey, though the latter is considered likely to be made Secretary for the Colonies. Aside from these, there is a degree of uncertainty.

The meeting of the Privy Council, which was set for this morning, has been postponed to a later date.

A partial list of the honors usually conferred upon the retirement of a Government was issued last night. It includes a peerage for Sir Thomas Sanderson, the retiring Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs and several minor honors.

The Irish Issue. One thing is certain—that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has explained his attitude on home rule. Since his speech at Sterling, which raised such a furore, Sir Henry has not made any statement but it confidently is asserted in the KEIR HARDIE.

Liberal clubs that he is ready with a policy which will secure the adhesion of the Nationalists and at the same time avoid raising the issue as one of most prominent planks in his platform. There is some uncertainty as to when the dissolution of Parliament will be effective, but it is not considered probable until after the new year.

Irish and Labor Party. An interesting feature of the political situation is the prospect of a closer alliance between the Irish and the Labor parties in the new Parliament. James Keir Hardie, the Socialist and Independent member, in a political speech last night frankly invited such an alliance. He pointed out that 45 Labor members combined with 75 Irish members would provide a voting strength which no Government, however strong, could afford to ignore. Speaking at Waterford, John Redmond said the importance of the colonies was as nothing compared with the goodwill and friendship of Ireland. They contributed nothing to the expenses of the Empire, but were a considerable expense and a liability against England, for if attacked tomorrow all the resources of the Empire would be placed at their disposal. Aberdeen For Ireland.

It is believed that the Earl of Aberdeen will be the new Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and that Herbert John Gladstone will be named as Secretary of State for the Department. Premier Balfour's next public appearance will be among his own constituents at Manchester next Saturday, where he will make a speech explaining the reasons for his resignation, and possibly outline the Unionist electoral campaign. No time like the present.
