The Will Habit.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

"No," said the Man-Who-Thinks, "not exactly that, but, because she can't help making so many enemies; because she is the worst victim of her own will. She dominates other people by it, but think how it dominates her. Remember, she didn't create that will; it was born in her, and I believe it drives her just as relentlessly as she drives other people."

The other day we were talking about a woman who has a very powerful will. She dominates everyone with whom she comes into contact by the force of her tremendous will. She has ruled her parents and brothers and sisters for years. She is the dominant force in several societies to which she belongs. Her profession is that of nursing, and before she has been in a patient's home twenty-four hours, she is managing it, unless perchance she happens to meet a will as strong as her own. And that is very seldom.

Now this woman is extremely clever and competent, and usually far more capable of managing things than those whom she dominates. Moreover she is self-sacrificing and kind-hearted, and wants nothing so much as to help everyone. And yet, as you easily imagine, she antagonizes people everywhere she goes.

At the mention of this woman, someone expressed a feeling of pity for her family, especially for a younger sister whom she has managed into a very petty incompetence. And then the Man-Who-Thinks spoke up and said, "I pity the woman herself far more than anyone else."

"Why?" asked the Author-Man. "Because she makes so many enemies?"

Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood-purifier and alternative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, which has enjoyed a good reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes M. Macgure, Manager, of National Military Home, Kans. "I went to Kansas City and in the spring of 1877 the chills and fever returned. Doctors and everything I tried failed to do me good. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised. I took one bottle of it and the chills vanished. In about a year afterward I felt them coming back so I got another bottle and have never had any symptoms of fever or chills since. That is all of twenty years ago. I had the chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery'."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for liver ill.

Household Notes.

Sponges are great germ collectors and should be scalded frequently.

For a bad sprain, bandage the affected part then pour hot water mixed with two parts of vinegar, as hot as the patient can stand.

To restore curdling mayonnaise, put a teaspoonful of melted butter in a round-bottom basin and gradually work in the mayonnaise.

When mashed potatoes need extra thinning, if you have no cream, use butter, as too much milk makes the potatoes watery and dark.

Cork linoleum is kept in good condition if wiped off daily with a cloth wrung out of tepid water and wiped once a week with skinned milk.

A plain hard varnish finish should be given to the kitchen linoleum once a year; apply the varnish very thinly. When dry, wipe over with milk and water.

When the sewing machine becomes clogged, try cleaning it with the bicycle pump. You can blow the dust out of crevices which the cloth cannot reach.

Mint sandwiches are excellent for supper or afternoon tea. Mince the leaves from two bunches, season with oil, vinegar, salt and paprika and spread between slices of bread and butter.

If salt fish is required for immediate use it will freshen much more quickly if soaked in milk instead of water. Sour milk will answer as well as sweet.

Eleven Hours of Boxing

London Outlook:—The thirty-third amateur boxing championship meeting was held recently, the yearly occasion that brings ambitious boxers from all over the United Kingdom to have a fling at each other. Several of the foreigners made a good show, notably the little Danish featherweight, Hansen, who smashed his way into the semi-finals, only to lose to the clever sixteen-year-old brother of "Sapper" O'Neill.

All five championships fell to London. The chief interest centred in the heavyweight. The first round matched Smith, the clever policeman who won in 1912, with Capt. M. P. Leahy, an old Dublin University champion, a stone lighter and four years older than Smith. Leahy was none the less always dangerous and made a tough fight, only to lose on points. Another policeman, by sheer weight and strength, defeated the big Frenchman Paoli and another fighter from Cardiff.

The Cardiff man was the better boxer, and both men had fought each other to a standstill by the end of two rounds. In the last four minutes neither was able to do more than stand, but weight and stamina told, and the policeman won. Good fellow, he had fought two terribly hard fights, with a broken nose and a dreadful eye. But, according to the spectators, he had stuck it out to clear the way for his comrade, Smith, to whom he gave a walkover in the final, leaving him champion for the second time.

An immense crowd of spectators gathered to see the show, which lasted eleven hours without a break.

Schoolgirl's Exhausted Nerves

Headaches, Dizzy Spells and Weakness Overcome by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Miss Gallop.

At about the age that most girls are working hardest at school studying for examinations there are important physiological changes taking place which are an additional strain on the nervous system.

Mrs. Gallop has had experience in the cases of her daughter and granddaughter, and for this reason her letter is particularly interesting to parents.

Mrs. J. A. Gallop, 135 Victoria street, St. John, N.E., whose husband is a carpenter, writes:—"We have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in our family for nervousness, headaches, dizziness and nervous dyspepsia, and have found them satisfactory in every particular. My daughter Beale was going to school, and became quite run down in health. By the time she had used three boxes of this remedy her nerves were steady, her general health was excellent and she was entirely free from headaches and dizzy spells. We are more than pleased with the results of this treatment."

"More recently we used the Nerve Food for my granddaughter, who was out of school for nearly a year from nervous trouble, and noticed improvement in her condition at once."
