Retiring Directors Re-elected—Shall the Jack Be Made Compulsory by

The 31st annual meeting of the London Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held in the offices, Richmond street, Wednesday afternoon. The reports of the year's business show the company to be in a most satisfactory condition. While the losses have been unusually heavy, the burden has fallen comparatively lightly upon the members, and especially so when their condition is contrasted with therecords of many similar companies. The following were among those in attendance: Messrs. Duncan Mc-Millan, James Cameron, James Armstrong, C. C. Hodgins, J. A. Leitch, Thos. Woolley, J. H. Marshall, James Black, John Burnett, Richard Whetter, Robert McEwan, Archibald McBrayne, Gilbert Roche, D. S. Butterfield, Augus Campbell, Daniel Black, Lauchlin Leitch, T. E. Robson, John Kennedy, Donald Mackenzie, ex-M.P., J. B. Vining, James McClenaghan, Robert Stewart, F. C. Thompson, D. C. Macdonald, Cameron Macdonald and C. J. Timpanny.

DERECTORS' REPORT.

To the members of the London Mutual Fire Insurance company of Canada:
Your directors now beg to submit their 31st annual report. It exhibits a large array of losses, and furnishes a further instance of events disappointing expectation, for we had full hopes that after a siege of three bad years business with the advent of better crops a falling off would have occurred, but such has not been the case, the "fire lead" in farm insurance appearing to be still bent in having his way. We must, therefore, in future fight him by using every precaution, and this course your directors have taken every step to adopt. The amount paid for losses during the year has been $83,694 6.

Policies.—During the year 13,629 policies were ance appearing to be stail beau in attract, and this ourse your directors have taken every step to adopt. The amount pald for losses during the year has been $30,654 03.

Policies.—During the year 13,629 policies were issued; of these 7,737 were on the premium note system; and £822 on that all $26,11,160. This must be the keen competition that exists, and shows at all events that the efforts of your company in keeping in advance in the way of affording protection to farmers and owners of residential property is fully appreciated, and that the confidence reposed in your company for the last 30 years is not abated.

Financial Statement.—Appended to this report will be found a full financial statement of the affairs and standing of the company, carefully prepared and certified to by the auditors. As will be seen that although owing to the heavy losses, and in anticipation of the assessment coming in, it was necessary during the year to ask advances from our bankers, that at the close of the year we had paid off all such claims, and did not owe 1 cent for borrowed money; also during the year your Board were enabled in order to strengthen the company and afford further security to the company and afford further security and the balance of available premium notes also has increased, being now $277,128 22.

Rates of Insurance.—Your directors have been able to keep the cash system rates a 90 cents per $100 for three years on ordinary farm property, and trust if proper precaution is taken in the future that they will not find it is hoped that by taking advantage of the experience of the past this will not be exceeded. On the other hand, if the Legislative assistance suggested hereafter in this report is granted as it should be, then the rates to premium note in members can be reduced in a marked degree.

Losses.—The tabular statement of losses appended hereafter in this report is granted as it only one year as large an amount, and may not meet with the same again.

The losses from lamps, lanterns, defective chimners and bad stovepipes are, to a great extent, preventible, if due care was taken by the assured to see that their chimners and to exercise a greater caution while using lights and in smoking, more especially about their outbuildings.

The great number of losses from alleged unknown causes I fear due to is many of them being in the interest of the assured. Some whose properties are heavily encumbered and highly insured taking that means to realize and tild themselves over close places. The losses from incendiary causes are also heavy, the pear on incendiary causes are also heavy, the pear on 1839 starting off with two large ones ide by side in our own vicinity. The steam threshe got in its work as usual, but when the use of the "jack" or "transmitter" becomes mean this amount will be lessened.

We have taken advantage several time during the year of the act providing for a investigation before a justice of the peac and very good results have come from it, and it think if more generally resorted to by the free companies much good would result from the both to the companies and their patrons, a not honest claimant wild have cause to feather most rigid investig on into the cause of leather the summer of the companies and their patrons, and honest claimant wild have cause to feather most rigid investig on into the cause of leather the summer of the companies and the order of the work of many of our agents, which will be advantage to themselves and the companing our success depends largely upon the care the careful of the directors and was adopted.

This report received a reception similar that of the directors and was adopted.

DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED.

Mr. A. Campbell, when the election of directors was announced as the next order of business, moved that the three retiring directors, Messrs. James Grant, Robert McEwan and Charles C. Hodgins, be reelected. Mr. James Armstrong cast the ballot and the directors were declared reelected.

Each of the directors acknowledged the Each of the directors acknowledged the honor done them with thanks. They expressed satisfaction with the way in which the company's affairs were managed and said they felt confident of its ultimate success.

Warden Robson moved that a vote of thanks be tendered all the officers and agents of the company. "I think it may be admitted," he said, "that the success of the company largely depends upon a care.
