

JOHN COLIN FORBES R. C. A. Canada's Great Portrait Painter

The artist who was commissioned by the Canadian Government to paint the portraits of King Edward and Queen Alexandra for the Dominion House of Parliament, and who was honored with sittings by their Majesties in the early part of this year, is John Colin Forbes who has a long trail of successes in his

Born in Toronto of Scotch-English parents, he was educated at Upper Canada College in his native city, and at an early age showed the first faint dawnings of his artistic genius. He was entirely self-taught, following with the sure instinct of true power along the lines of natural development, and silently working out his own destiny until he produced his first real work, a portrait of his father. This revealed so commanding an exhibit of his ability that he was sent to study at the South Kensington Museum and later at the Royal Academy in London. One of his first paintings, a marine view called "Toronto Bay," took a first prize at the Provincial Exhibition in 1866 and he later painted a number of portraits that added greatly to his fame, notably those of Lord Dufferin, Sir John Macdonald, Alexander MacKenzie, Edward Blake, Sir Charles Tupper and Lady Helen Blackwood.

In 1881 he was elected to the Royal Canadian Academy of Arts and five years later painted for the Canadian Pacific R.R. a series of pictures which reproduced some of the masterpieces of Nature's painting and sculpture in the wild, romantic Canadian Rockies, where Titanic mountains, deep gorges, great expanses of scenery are shown in a color scheme of Nature at her best. These gave him some of the masterpieces of Nature's painting and sculpture in the wild, romantic themes that filled his artistic soul with joy. Those who are familiar with his paintings "The Cañon in the Royal Gerge," "The Mount of the Holy Cross," Mount Stephen," and the "Glacier of the Selkirks," must ever carry with them the memory of their majestic beauty and power. In 1891 members of the Canadian Liberal party sent him to England to paint a full-length portrait of Gladstone for the National Liberal Club of London. For the past few years much of his work has been done in the United States where he has made portraits of many of the leading men of the country.

Fire and water have been merciless in their pursuit of Mr. Forbes. When the steamer "Hibernia" went down in mid-ocean in 1868 it carried with it some of his best paintings and he barely escaped with his life, and his famous painting of the wreck was destroyed by fire in 1879. In three later fires the work of years fed the flames, and yet this Phœnix painter of Canada, undismayed and undaunted, has ever risen with new life from the ashes.
