Men Should Strike

the best possible arrangement between their cash account and their tailor—there is downright economy in getting clothes made for yourself, from the best materials, with good linings, and good workmanship. They hold their shape until the end, wear longer and give evidence of good tailoring up to the very last—provided, of course, that you order from the tailor who can guarantee. We are in the business for that purpose.

Birds Will Not Be Allowed to Come to Austria.

Vienna, Sept. 2.—The customs authorities on the frontier have just received an order issued by the ministers of the Interior, finance, commerce and agriculture, forbidding the sending of live pigeons into any part of Austria, just as though the raising of pigeons had suddenly become a Government monopoly.

Such, however, is not the case. The order was inspired by the ministry of national defence as a measure specially intended to prevent the importation of carrier pigeons, which might easily render valuable service to the enemy in conveying news messages in the event of war.

However, a significant exception is made in the case of birds for which a special permit has been obtained, but such will only be granted after full knowledge of the object in importing the birds.

—Hewer's Male Quartet, including Mr. Verne L. Hewer, baritone, and Mr. E. Sanders, comedian, furnished the programme at the annual Kilmartin picnic yesterday afternoon.

LABOR MEN HAD A GREAT DAY, STANLEY KETCHELL DEFEATED

On arriving at the Park, the crowd filled the stands. After a programme of music by the bands, Mayor Stevely was introduced by Mr. H. B. Archer, who was master of ceremonies.

Mayor Speaks.
His worship made a brief speech, in which he congratulated the union men of the city on the successful demonstration. So far as he could see, it was one of the best ever held. London was a city of fine homes, and one of the things that most impressed visitors was the good homes of the workmen. This was primarily due to the unionists, who had done a great deal for the city, and had always tried to advance the interests of the people at large. He hoped that there would be many such demonstrations.

The Sports Programme.
Then the programme of sports was introduced.

There were many clean contests, although in some of them there was not as many entries as had been hoped for. The dashes were keenly contested, and the time was good. The fat man's race created some amusement, and the five-mile race, which was won by R. Campbell, of the Ramblers' Club, was a good one.

The tuggers' relay team had it all their own way in the Canadian Club trophy race, and made a fast mile.

Sweeney won a number of races in good style, and is a runner of promise. The pillow fight was the great card of the programme, and it seemed as if a million youngsters wanted to get into the melee.

The Scotch dancers were good, and the old-time favorite, R. Rowan, made a hit with his Irish jig.

Ex-Ald. Thomas Gillean made a good starter, and Mayor Stevely, Ald. Rose and Harry Clark acted as judges. Dr. Fred L. Woods was announcer, and kept things moving.

The sports programme was very good. Prince Stanley, the tight-wire man, introduced several novelties into his act, while the rest of the programme was good.

The prizes for the two best decorated wagons in the procession were awarded to the drivers of Johnston's butcher wagon, and Breen and Bullock's wagon.

given six and the balance shows even honors.

Both Fight Viciously.
In round one the men sparred cautiously for a few moments and then fought viciously for two minutes without a stop. Moran drove Attell to the center of the ring, outflung him in a hard rally just as the round ended. Attell had a slight lead.

In the second round they fought evenly until the last minute when Moran put in a hard wicked straight right to the jaw and then put his left to the body. Attell looked serious and this look was accentuated when Moran smashed him on the face with a hard right. Moran's round.

The third was even, both leading freely and fighting fast and cleverly. The fourth was Attell's round by a slight margin. He used his left to advantage in jabbing the Englishman.

Cleverness Against Aggressiveness.
Honors were even in the fifth. Attell's cleverness offsetting Moran's aggressiveness.

In the sixth the little fellows slugged fiercely and at the Moran seemed to have the better of it.

Attell brought first blood in the seventh round, cutting Moran's left eye with a right that immediately caused that organ to swell almost tight. Moran went on the defensive and fought carefully. It was Attell's round.

Again in the eighth Attell showed to better advantage, battering Moran's damaged eye, though the Englishman was by no means idle, using his right to the head effectively. Moran's face was bleeding considerably as he took his seat.

The ninth was hard fought and ended in Attell's favor.

Ill-Feeling on Both Sides.
Considerable ill-feeling has been exhibited throughout the fight.

Moran fought viciously in the tenth round and had a slight advantage at its close. His blows seemed heavier. It was a case of see-saw now, Attell coming back and taking the lead in the eleventh. Moran rushed and Attell stopped him with a straight left. They finally threw science to the winds and slugged and refused to stop when the gong rang and they were parted.

The twelfth was fairly even though Moran bled freely from cut lips. As the gong rang they were fighting head to head. Attell went smiling to his corner. He was unmarked, while blood flowed freely from Moran's face.

The thirteenth and fourteenth were slower with no advantage to either side. Moran did most of the leading, but his hardest blows were evaded.

Moran Gains.
The fifteenth and sixteenth rounds were in Moran's favor. His blows, while not so frequent, carried more force. Attell used his cleverness to block most of them.

The seventeenth was Attell's. He used his left effectively on Moran's face and slowed the Englishman up in his rushes.

The eighteenth brought no advantage and the contest could fairly have been called a draw at this point but Attell in the nineteenth took a slight lead.

Clinching and sparring occupied a minute's time in the nineteenth. Finally Moran shot a left to the face, but Attell raised the Briton's head with a hard left uppercut to the jaw. Closing in, Attell peppered the Englishman's stomach with short arm rights and lefts. The bell rang with Attell having the advantage.

Again in the twentieth Attell did the better work. He caught Moran with a hard left to the jaw and then sent his right to the stomach.

Both Fight Hard.
Moran started Attell's right eye to bleeding in the twenty-first with a hard left blow. Moran then put two hard lefts to the jaw, shaking Attell up a bit. The men were fighting hard when the round closed. Moran having the lead in the round.

In the twenty-second, Attell shot a hard left to the jaw that nearly floored the Britisher. Moran drove a stiff right to the jaw and in a furious rally pelted Attell viciously with left and right swings to the body. It was a hard and even round.

Round twenty-three and last: "Moran and Attell" came the shout from all quarters as the men shook hands. They went at it fast from the start and battled evenly until the gong ended the fight. Referee Welsh quickly called the contest a drawn battle.

Strathroy, Sept. 8.—The London Aberdeen lacrosse team yesterday defeated the local team 4 to 1.

BASEBALL.
Port Stanley on Saturday was the scene of two battles royal, a London baseball team playing the Port Stanley nine for the honor of possessing the name "Leaflets." London won both games, the scores being 5 to 0 and 2 to 1. Towe and McKay officiated in both games for London, while Port Stanley used Jones and Webb and Janiet and Webb.

Yesterday the Leaflets journeyed to Oakville and broke even with the fast team of that place, winning the morning game by 6 to 4 and dropping the afternoon contest 3 to 2.

Flanagan and McKenzie were the batteries for London in the first game, while Page and Snow did the honors for Oakville.

Smart and McKay acted for London in the second game, with Love and Snow on the other end of the argument.

While the baseball games were on, a picked cricket team, calling itself the Leaflets, and another team en-

RUPTURE
ONE MINUTE MORE

The Most Scientific, Easiest, Surest and Most Infallible Method ever Invented. No spring or parts to annoy the wearer or to get out of order. No operation.

—This country is teeming with individuals who suffer from rupture and who have never been able to find a cure. Nature has done its best for them, perhaps, but the trusses they have used have done more harm than good. The customary truss does more harm than it should. It stops the circulation at the very spot where it should be free to allow new blood with fresh materials to heal up the rupture. Ordinary trusses not only stop the circulation, but press the diaphragm and bowels in so far that instead of the rupture healing it is aggravated, and when the truss is removed the intestines and diaphragm spring out of their normal condition and the protrusion starts all over again. THE WHOLE TRUSS SYSTEM IS WRONG. It is a wonder that anyone who has worn an old-fashioned truss can even see his way out. The great object of truss-wearing is to CURE the rupture and to be able to THROW AWAY THE TRUSS afterward.

The new appliance—the only one in the world—that gives normal pressure, leaves the edges of the rupture with free circulation of blood, keeps the bowels in place without pushing them back too far. The new appliance is as comfortable as flesh against flesh—soft, easy, with lots of elasticity, and gives the same degree of pressure as nature itself, and leaves nature perfectly free to do the work of healing.
