Fireman Norman Grover in Hospital-Leonard Mc-Cormick Also Hurt.

Collision between a sedan driven by Wilfred A. Harvey, 778 Dufferin avenue, and a large ladder truck of the central fire department in front of the Clarendon hotel, King and Talbot streets, last night, resulted in severe injuries to Fireman Norman Grover, truck driver, and Leonard McCormick, passenger in the motor

The large fire truck, travelling at top speed in response to a fire alarm, swerved at the street intersection in an attempt to avoid the collision and hit a supporting post in the doorway of the hotel, ripping it from its position and damaging the front of the building. The sedan was thrown about 30 feet, breaking a hydro light standard in its path and dislodging a fire hydrant

Grover is in Victoria hospital with broken rib and possible internal injuries. McCormick is at his home, 241 Oxford street, badly cut and bruised and suffering from a strained back. Harvey escaped uninjured. The two men are reported to be slightly improved today. Investiga-tion of their hurts reveal they are not seriously injured, although both will be confined to bed for some time. Terrific Impact.

The fire truck had proceeded two blocks along King street from the central hall, a distance which would give it time to accelerate. swung his machine to the right as he approached the intersec-tion and saw that collision with the sedan was impending. Simultaneously Harvey swung his car to the left. Both machines crashed with terrific impact.

The motor car was driven over against an electric light stand-which snapped off. It stopped with the rear end against the Hotel Clarendon and the front resting over a fire plug. There is little doubt but that the whole question of collegiate accommodation will be re-opened for discision in the board of education in

Despite the fact that he is still wedded to the board's plan to build a neast end collegiate on Rectory street by tearing down the Rectory street public school, Chairman S. F. Lewrson agreed this morning that Lawrason agreed this morning that

Mr. Cairneross could scure the necessary vote in the board to reopen the subject.

It takes only a cursory glance at the complexion of the board membership to indicate that Mr. Lawrason is not far wrong in his indeed. son is not far wrong in his judge-ment. In fact it would occasion little surprise if two members of the board voted to reconsider the question Mr. Lawrason, of course, is one of the two and Trustee Rev. R. D. Mess, M. M., is the other. Mr. Mess is opposed to re-opening the question, but has stated that once it is opened he reserves the right to take what-ever stand he sees fit.

The speeches delivered at the east end meting last night by Trustees Wm. G. Murray and Mrs. John A. Rose threw some light on the ques-tion. Mr. Murray has all along stood for one central unity as the best and for one central unity as the best and most economical solution, but Mrs. Rose's intimation thta, under certain conditions, she is favorable to a cen-tral unit is of even greater signifi-
