On the threshold of the year
See! the Lord is standing near,
And thy heart forgets its fear, in his smile.
Trembling soul! He speaks to thee,
I myself thy guide will be;
All the way is known to me, mile by mile.

— Late, late, so late; and dark the night and chill;
Late, late, so late! but we can enter still.
Too late, too late! ye cannot enter now.
" No light had we: for that we do repent;
And, learning this, the bridegroom will relent.
Too late, too late! ye cannot enter now.
" No light, so late! and dark and chill the night!
O, let us in, that we may find the light!
Too late, too late! ye cannot enter now.
" Have we not heard the bridegroom is so sweet?
O, let us in, tho' late, to kiss his feet!
No, no, too late, ye cannot enter now."
—Tennyson.
