

	PAGE
Increased or . . .	210
.	210
.	211
own in the . . .	212
Individual . . .	217
.	219
ce of Par- . . .	223
.	224
Office	225
consult any . . .	226
.	226
unreserved . . .	227
.	228
by Parlia- . . .	229
.	229
the Sove- . . .	230
rnment	230
municated . . .	231
.	232
.	233
.	233
egated	233
.	234
tion	235
.	235
Mannual in . . .	238
.	239
rown	239
.	239
nals	242
 PARLIAMENT.
.	244
.	246
.	252
a Parlia- istration	253—259

II. Practice of Parliament in the appointment of Select Committees to inquire into Administrative Questions	270
III. Practice in regard to the granting or withholding, by the Executive, of information desired by Parliament	278
IV. Circumstances which may require the interposition of Parliament to restrain the illegal exercise of Executive authority in relation, more particularly, to:—	284
(1) Orders in Council and Royal Proclamations	285
(2) Minutes of Committees of Council, and other Departmental Regulations	291
(3) Contracts entered into on behalf of the Crown	296
(4) Illegal or oppressive Acts by particular Ministers	299
In matters Ecclesiastical	304
(1) As concerns the Church of England in the Mother Country	305
(2) The position of the Church of England in the Colonies	308
(3) The position of the Church of England in Foreign Countries	317
(4) The obligations of the Act of Uniformity	318
In respect to the Army and Navy:—
Their levy and maintenance	320
Their direction and control	321
Precedents	330
In respect to Martial Law	341
In Pardoning Offenders	343
Precedents	348
In the Administration of Justice	352
Precedents	358
Cases of erroneous convictions	364
In granting Honours and Rewards	366
Thanks voted by Parliament to individuals	368
In granting Charters of Incorporation, &c.	372
In creating Offices; appointing to Office; and in the control of Persons in Public Employ.	375
In the remuneration of Persons in Office	395
Precedents	408
In matters of Supply and Taxation	427
I. (a) Restrictions upon Parliament in matters of Supply	428
Necessity for the consent of the Crown before proceeding upon any matter which involves public expenditure	429
Practice of the Lords less stringent	433
Abstract Resolutions on pecuniary questions	435
Addresses of House of Commons for the Advance of Money	435
Informal expressions of opinion in Parliament upon Money Questions	437
Precedents	438
I. (b) Restrictions upon Parliament in matters of Taxation	444
Motions concerning Taxation should emanate from Ministers of the Crown	444
Abstract Resolutions concerning particular Taxes	445
Precedents	445