Christian Science Doctrine Declared by New Yorker at Massey Hall.

MRACLES EXPLAINED

esus Christ Broke No Law in Raising Dead to Life

Twenty-seven hundred people as-mbled in Massey Hall yesterday af-roon to hear William D. Mc-acken of New York give an address ristian era, when some people beof diseases of the body and the soul by means of the mind or spirit, but it was only in recent years that the teachings of that religion had taken a firm held on the mind of the human race. He stated that at the present was known the race. He stated that at the present time Christian Science was known the world over, and that there was not enough ingenuity in the carnal mind to drive it out of existence or counteract its influence. The doctrines of Christian Science had come to stay.

A Common Father.

Mr. McCracken explained that Christian scientific doctrines were pros they teach tha tthere is but one dod, who is the common father of all. "In this altruistic age everyone is trying to do something for the rest of humanity as well as for himself, and this desire to help one another agises out of the belief in one God, who is the Father of us all, His children," said the ng, Mr. McCracken quoted from the Bible to prove that God is the mind. This point taken for granted, he stated that the solution of the question depended upon what we know of God. The Christian Science text book refers to Him as "truth spirit, soul mind, principle love." The speaker then argued that if God was a spirit, man who is made in His likeness, must also be a spirit. This was far from the prevailing idea of man.

Evil an Illusion.
"If we believe that God is love—and we do-we must come to the conclu-sion that God is not the author of evil. If God were the creator of evil, i would be wrong for us to fight against it, and medical men, hospitals and other institutions and professions for the treatment of disease would be fighting against God. Jesus Christ said to the creator of all evil that he was a liar and the father of liars.
What then is evil? It is a lie, a deception, an illusion regarding the truth. If evil were a truth and a part of the creation of God, you could not wipe it out, and you might just as well do away with churches and religions that are trying to eradicate

A Concept of Spirit. The speaker went on to prove that man was a spirit and noted that physicists were gradually arriving at the conclusion that matter after being subdivided into atoms, when further subdivided, resolved itself into force and energy. "The concept of matter, he said, 'is gradually giving way to the concept of force, and there is no This is what physicists are gradually came, not to break but to fulfil the law. In raising the dead to life Christ did not break the law, as He knew that God was the eternal life, and He merely made practical demonstration of this upon the human body. It was aim of Christian Scientists to do

DETERMINATION

Is Attitude of Ulster to Home Rule - Concessions Necessary.

Ven. Archdeacon Cody discussed tife Irish home rule question from the reli-gious standpoint at St. Paul's Church last night. It was the annual church service of the Irish Profestant Benevoient Society.

The home rule issue was a great and any sided question, said the preacher, It was too important and too serious consequences were involved for it to be made a football by political parties. In view of the volunteer movement and the solidarity of the Protestants of Ulster he was not optimist enough to assert that civil imist enough to assert that civil war rimist enough to assert that civil war was impossible.

The Bishop of Down had refered to the position of the people of Ulster as "a grim determination." It seemed inconceivable that armed force would be used against a population of almost a million industrious and law-abiding people because they object to a rule which whether rightly or wrongly, they believe would be destructive of all they hold most dear.

Avert Civil War.

If Ulster was to be part of a united Ireland it must be brought about by peaceful persuasion and not by civil war. He was convinced that the resources of statesmanship would not be exhausted before some peaceful way was discovered. No concessions would be too great to avert civil war.

No better immigrant entered Canada than the God-fearing Protestants from Ireland. Among those whose lives had enriched the church history of Canada were such Irish Protestants as Bishops DuMoulin, Sullivan and Carmichael. Irishmen in Canada would never have irishmen in Canada would never have a greater opportuity of contributing by their lives and by the work of such organizations as the LRBS by loyalty to the traditions of their past than in helping in this moulding time in the history of the Dominton in work for the moral benefit of the people.

ROBERT BOND DIES AT ATLANTIC CITY

Southern Trip Powerless to Prolong Life of Elderly Liveryman:

Word was received yesterday that Robert Bond, who resided at 30 Willcocks street, Toronto, had died at Atlantic City, where he had gone with his wife in an effort to regain his health. Mr. Bond was one of Toronto's pioneer citizens. He was for many years the proprietor of a large livery stable on Sheppard street, which was known to business men in the centre of the city as one of the most efficient and best regulated not only in Toronto, but in Ontario. Mr. Bond's father was the owner of the business before his son took charge. Mr. Bond had been in ill health for some time and about two weeks ago he decided to act upon his physician's advice and went to Atlantic City, where he hoped to regain his strength. He had, however, waited too long, and his condition became worse after his trip and he failed rapidly and died on Saturday. His wife was present at the end, which was very peaceful. The body will be brought to Toronto for interment.
