

NOTICE OF CONTENTS.

---

CHAPTER I. A Sketch of English ethical thought from Bacon to Clarke.

I. Bacon. II. Hobbes. III. Cambridge Platonists. IV. Cumberland.
V. Locke.

CHAPTER II. Clarke.

I. Life and works. II. Influences from various quarters:

A. Ancient writers; B. Descartes and English Science; C. Rationalistic theology; D. The Deists.

CHAPTER III. The Ethical Theory.

I. The general plan and method. II. The Differences of Things.
III. The Fitness of Things. IV. Moral Perception. V. Moral Obligation. VI. Human Liberty. VII. Motives. VIII. The Chief Good.

CHAPTER IV. Conclusion.

I. Influence of Clarke at the time he lived. II. Influence of Clarke on later ethical thought. Balguy, Wollaston, Price. III. Further development of Clarke's ideas.

A. The moral faculty. B. The moral standard.

---