"England did not take Canada for love, or to plant the cross of religion, as the French did, but in order to plant their trading posts and make money. The only liberties we have are those we won by force, and to-day England tries to deminate its colonies as imperial Rome once did."

There was scant applause for those

There was scant applause for those remarks, and in reply Mr. Beland, M. P. for Beauce, turned to Mr. Blondin and said it was the first time in his career he had ever seen a member of parliament under a British flag denounce the mother country.

Apparently Mr. Gilbert, Nationalist candidate, is not so strongly opposed to the navy as to its imperial aspect. If it were to be a strictly Canadian navy he said yesterday at St. Germain he would not have accepted the candidature but what he objected to was clause 23, which made the Canadian fleet part of the imperial navy in time of war. But Mr. Beland replied that a vote for Gilbert would be equal to one for Borden and a more advanced imperial policy.

ed imperial policy.

Mr. Beland figured out to-day that Liberals would cheer the Nationalists, again vote for Laurier and swallow the navy dope, albeit with a wry face.
Simply a Protest.

This position was fally well outlined at this afternoon's meeting here, which was called by the Nationalists, but was, as thruout the whole campaign, an "assemblee contradictoire," speakers on either side alternating with the utmost good nature. Each side was listened to with close attention, altho the Nationalists undoubtedly wen the most applause. Mr. Gilbert was the first speaker, and declared that he appeared simply as an opponent of the naval policy.

This is not a fight between Liberal or Conservative," he said, "but simply a protest against this naval program. I accepted the candidature sim-ply that this riding might pronounce itself clearly on that question alone."

Navy Program Uppermost.

There has practically been but one subject of discussion during the Lidays' campaign, the navy program. Mr. Gilbert has emphasized that he was nominated not as Conservative nor Nationalist, but as an "anti-naval oppositionist." Mr. Berrault, sovernment candidate, has frankly supported the whole naval policy, admitting it is a bitter pill, but that if it is refused the Conservatives would give the country a still more unpalatable doze of imperialistic medicine. It is plainly evident that the French-Canadian habitants are strongly opposed to naval or military expenditure, or to eny form of imperialism. But when it comes to a question of Laurier and naval policy or defeat to Laurier, that is a matter which makes then pause. The question is, will loyalty to Laurier and naval policy or defeat to Laurier, that is a matter which makes then pause. The question will only be answered when the polls close to-morrow night. If this afternoon's meeting here is any criterion of the naval program, but when it comes to a show down at the county sympathy is running strong; with the Nationalists' program, but when it comes to a show down at the laurier hero worship may overcome prejudices. Small Turnout at McGill, Small Turnout at McGill, MONTREOL, Nov. 2.—There was a poor turnout at the McGill practice this afternoon. Some of the regulars of the senfor team had not returned from excursions home over the holiday and others are evidently looking on the game with Ottawa College as an easy affair. It is hoped to have a better turnout at the remaining practices of the week. No officials have yet been appointed for the game.
