Customers From Out-of-Town Are Finding Out What Smallman & Ingram January Sales Mean To Them

It has been proven again and again by investigation and comparison in almost every line that our prices are invariably lowest for goods of equal quality. This, of course, may not apply to every article, but so frequently and continuously the advantage is shown in favor of customers of this store that there is undoubtedly a year-around advantage assured to those who do their principal shopping here. Now, these January sales, which will run until stock inventory, January 31, mean that much standard, reliable, desirable merchandise will be sold at a considerable reduction from our regular prices, which are always fair and moderate. In the January sales are season-end stocks, as well as new, fresh goods gathered in advance for the chief events of this month preparatory to stocktaking.
