WHERE THEY'LL FIGHT

I met a weary, wandering man up by the far Saskatchewan.
His whiskers to his shoetops ran, as likewise did his hair.
This modern Rip Van Winkle chap was poring o'er a tattered map And muttering, "I'll hold that scrap! but where? Oh, where? Oh,

The year was nineteen twenty-six, unless the calendar played tricks; And yet that voice! 'Twas Texas Rick's! I stopped him then and

And asked, "What brought you to this case?" He said, "I'm looking for a place Where Jeff can hammer Johnson's face! But where? Oh, where?

"On being barred from 'Frisco town to Mexico we journeyed down; But each alcalde wors a frown upon his ugly snoot.
We tried the Arizona sand; we sought the golden orange land,
But always got the icy hand, stone heart and iron boot.

"I've walked from Maine to Skaguay; 'I've built a ring at Baffin's But everywhere they hollered, "Nay!' and 'Scat!' 'Git out!' 'With-

For long ago I sold my 'mobe to get the price of grub.

But still for rings I'm on the track. Is Jeff alive? Yes? Also Jack?

Well, tell 'em some day I'll be back and say, 'I've found the club!' "

HAMILTON, June 20 .- This was the second day of the Hamilton Jockey Club second day of the resiminon sockey Club spring meeting. There was another large attendance, the Toronto train bringing up about 1000 of the faithful. There were eight races on the card, the feature being the Wentworth Plate, with a stake of $1200 added. This was the big upset of the day, that good sprinter, Jack Atkin, that won so easily Saturday, being taken into camp by Denham of the Valley Farm stable. The field got away to a good start, with Denham outbreaking, his field by two lengths. Jack Atkin was a little slow in getting away, but was soon in his stride, and began to go after Denham, but the latter was there to stay to-day, and, try as only Jack Atkin can, he could not close up the ground that separated him, and was beaten fair fand square, and John Nixon deserves credit for getting him back to the form he showed two years ago.

The steeplechase again proved disastrous, for only four horses finished the course without a mistake. Nat Ray got Byzantine away in front and stayed there thruout the race, winning easily at the end. The Royal Hotel Handicap, the last race on the card, was won by C. Boyle's Detective after a great rush thru the stretch, just getting up in time to nose spring meeting. There was another large
