NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

Where Are The Dead? Our friends, our neighbors, the holy, the unholy, the civilized, the vile?

The Lord Jesus declared that "no man hath ascended up to heaven, but He that came down from heaven, even the Son of Man." (John 8:13).

The Apostle Peter declared, "David is not ascended into heaven." (Acts 9:34).

Toronto, Oct. 14 James Manuel made his will in 1900 when leaving Scotland for Canada. He died in 1916, leaving a large estate. His will was submitted to Justice Logie for construction at the Ottawa weekly court, and His Lordship has decided that the legacies to each of his brothers, Rev. David Manuel and Dr. William Manuel of Ottawa, vested in each of them at the death of James. Both these brothers have since died, David in April. 1921, and William in October, 1921. The remaining parts of their shares in the estate of James, which they had not received prior to their deaths, is to be paid to their executors. In David's case, this amounts to $176,777.79, and in the case of William it amounts to $175,000. Each of the brothers was bequeathed a quarter of the entire estate of James, and prior to their deaths had received two-thirds of their shares. The entire estate would he in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. The heirs are all in the Old Country.

Re

the much-needed period of world reconstruction.

Speaking of the situation which had been allowed to develop in the Near East, he believed it spelled the finish of Lloyd George so far as the British people were concerned. He could never conceive of the British government going to war on the issue which had been raised because the people of England had at last become disgusted with their position of being the world police force and paying for the privilege. He did not believe there was any immediate likelihood of an election in Great Britain. The election, when it came would be a straight fight between the Conservative and the Labor Party with the Liberals practically out of the ruming. He wished it understood, however, that the Labor Party in England was almost wholly composed of trade unionists and contained but a very small socialistic element.

LUDLOW STREET

Y. P. S. CONCERT A fine programme of musical and literary selections was given last night in the school room of the Ludlow street Baptist church under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the church and a capacity audience was greatly delighted with the entertainment. Parsons; readings, Miss Marjorie Robbins; vocal solo, Miss H. S. Mills; piano duet, Miss E. L. Crocket and George Lanyon; readings, Miss Verta Roberts; readings, Miss Betts; reading, Ronfald Shaw; vocal solo, Mrs. V. R. Henderson; reading, Miss Elizabeth Marshon; God Save the King. During the interval a candy sale was conducted under the convenorship of Mrs. Clarence Currie and Mrs. William Gray, assisted by an able committee.

POPE LAUDS CANOVA. Centenary of Sculptor's Death Will Be Observed in Italy.

Rome, Oct. 14.—(Associated Press.)
—Pope Pius has written a letter to Cardinal Lafontaine, Patriarch of Venice, commemorating the occasion of the centenary of the death of Antonia Canova, the Italian sculptor of the early nineteenth century.

His Holiness recalls the splendor of the religious monument which the church and humanity owe to the famous sculptor. His work in bringing back to Italy many of the artistic treasures scized by Napoleon and his share in the construction of the museum of Pius VII. were subjects of the Pope's commendation. His Holiness also touched on Canova's charity and Christian sentiments. EACH EVENING at 7.45 Sundays 10.30 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Speaker, Rev. J. Swetnam.

Wed. 8 p.m.—Prayer and praise.
All are welcome. Seats free.

Man grows old, and his baffled heart ages faster than himself. If in his fellows there is all he could love, all that he shrinks from is there, too.

He whose fear is greater than his hope, holds himself aloof from men.

The letter concludes by delegating Cardinal Lafontaine to represent the he shrinks from is there, too.

He whose fear is greater than his hope, versary to be held at Possagno, near Treviso, the birthplace of the sculptor.

To John Tallain Department No., 604 __TORONTO

Under date of October 11th we have a letter from Mr. George S. Cushing, Fuel Administrator, in which he says he asked the public by press notices, etc., to relieve the situation and "play the game" by accepting small amounts of coal, so that the present available supply can be spread around the greatest number of people. "I have reason to fear that they are not meeting this request in the proper manner and now, therefore, INSTRUCT you to confine your deliveries to one person the maximum of two tons of coal; thus, spreading your supply around until the situation is relieved. Everyone should have a little supply for cold days that are liable to come at any minute."

It is going to cost us more money to obey this order, as we can deliver coal much more cheaply in large lots than we can by making several deliveries on the larger order, but, from the point of view of "the greatest good to the greatest number," we cannot help but admit that the local Fuel Administrator is making the proper move, under the present circumstances.

To illustrate—We are just finishing a week in which we have delivered in purely retail orders the matter of about 700 tons of Welsh Coal. The orders going to make up this 700 tons would average, approximately, 12 tons each. Coal to keep about 60 buildings warm was the result of our deliveries for the week. Now, if this 700 tons had been split up in not more than 2 tons for any one place, at least, 350 places would have had coal ready for the first cold snap.

Our problem today is not so much one of coal, as it is a prob-lem of delivery. We can only weigh and deliver so many loads each day, and, if the people having orders for 10, 12, 20, 60 and 100 tons and soforth were to get their full quantity for the winter at once, other people would be freezing before we could complete the list.

We would, therefore, request that our customers not urge us to complete their orders in full, for the simple reason that the Fuel Administrator will not permit us to do it, and they are not acting in a public spirited or a charitable manner in asking us to deliver coal that will last them for the entire winter, when, perhaps, a next door neighbor will be actually freezing in the course of a few

We have ample coal in our sheds to keep us working to capacity for some time to come and another large shipment of Welsh Coal leaving Wales early next week, so, those whose deliveries are deferred are absolutely sure in getting their full amount of coal eventually and the price agreed upon.
