

The attention of all scoutmasters is directed to the annual report of the district commissioner appearing in last Saturday's edition of the Times-Star. Any who have not a copy of this excellent report are advised to secure one as there are a number of items of special interest to the scoutmasters. Special attention is directed to several items contained in this report. One of the qualifications for scoutmaster is a general knowledge of the handbook for Canada and we wish to impress upon the scoutmasters the necessity of this and also following the advice laid down in the handbook, as there are too many different methods being used in the conducting of a troop meeting. Scoutmasters are requested to impress upon the boys the necessity of doing their daily "good turn" and of obeying the Scout law.

The commissioner also very strongly recommends the preparing of a programme for the evening at least one week in advance or better still, having a programme drawn up for several months. The patrol system is another point that was given special attention and he pointed out that the chief scout, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, emphasized the fact that the patrol and not the troop was the training unit and that inter-patrol competition should be encouraged. Another item that was brought up was the matter of discipline which was not receiving sufficient attention.

A Nutritious Diet for All Ages.
Keep Horlick's Always on Hand

He pointed out that the discipline should be strict but not harsh and should be carefully enforced.

If these suggestions of the commissioner are carefully followed out and the scoutmasters give the scoutmasters their support there will be a very noticeable improvement in the troops of the district.

Attention is directed to the Wallace Nesbitt Junior First Aid Competition and all scoutmasters are urged to send in their applications as soon as possible.

1st St. John (Knox) Troop.
On Friday evening, October 21, the weekly meeting was held, a record attendance was very encouraging and the winter programme of instruction and entertainment was discussed. The Court of Honor met at the close of the regular meeting and several important matters concerning the welfare of the troop were brought up. Several recruits have been taken in since the opening of the season and a very pleasant term is being looked forward to, both from an instructive and a social standpoint.

10th St. John (Little River) Troop.
The weekly meeting of Little River troop was held in their hall at Midwood on Friday evening. The troop committee members were present and are trying to make the troop larger and better. During the evening three boys received their Tenderbadges and a new member joined the troop. After a few games were played the troop dismissed.

17th St. John (Trinity) Troop.
Trinity troop met on Monday evening with a large attendance. During the evening the troop was visited by Dr. Post, who gave a short talk to the boys and a first aid lecture. After playing a few games the troop dismissed for the evening.

10th St. John (Mission) Pack.
There was another full turnout of the Mission Pack on Thursday evening. Good progress was made with the Tenderbadges and a few games were played. The pack received a visit from the provincial secretary, who presented the

A HALLOWE'EN FROLIC AT Y. W. C. A.

The Halloween Frolic of the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium girls in the recreational centre last night was one of the biggest successes the "Y" has held yet. There were 500 girls, all in costume, and the judges simply gave up the task of deciding which was the prettiest, quaintest or the funniest and so no prizes were awarded. Every conceivable form of Halloween weirdness was introduced into the programme. The arrivals were ushered up dark stairways and greeted by cold and clammy handshakes their hands put into cold macaroni which felt too realistically like worms and their nerves shaken by sudden encounters with witches and ghosts. A witch scene and a ghostly burial were part of the programme and Miss Melrose and Miss Edna Hunt, as ghosts, and Mrs. J. D. Hunter and Miss Jean Sommerville, as witches, played their parts with very gruesome effect. Each of the gymnasium classes put on a special stunt, the seniors with their Kazoo band scoring a big hit. The pianists were Mrs. R. Ring, Miss J. Pirie, Miss W. Dalziel and Mrs. Dykeman. The members of the board of directors were amongst the most amused and delighted of the spectators. Miss C. Littlefield, the physical instructor, was the organizer and planner of the whole entertainment. Mrs. E. C. Weyman, the convener of the physical committee, and her able assistants had charge of the serving of refreshments.

LABOR MAY HAVE TWO CANDIDATES

The executive of the Canadian Labor party met again last evening in the Trades and Labor Hall in Prince William street with F. S. McMullin in the chair. The various committees, which had been appointed to interview candidates regarding their running as representatives of the Labor party, reported that they had made further progress since the meeting earlier in the week. It was decided that the party would run two men at the election instead of only one as had been generally understood. Other business was discussed.

HONORS A DEAD HERO OF P. E. I.

Pittsburg, Oct. 28.—Among the twenty-seven persons formally recognized by the Carnegie Hero Fund commission here today was William McRae, of Bonshaw (P. E. I.), who was drowned while trying to save a companion at Westville (P. E. I.), on August 16, 1920.

FORT WILLIAM REJECTS INDUSTRY

Sheep Feeding Place Project Turned Down for Fear of Resultant Effluvia.

Fort William, Ont., Oct. 29.—This city is divided because of a smell. Not an odor that is already here, but one that might arrive and flourish apace, if certain things come to pass. There is a proposal to establish here a sheep feeding industry, R. C. Harvey, a Lethbridge rancher offering to nourish ten thousand bleaters on the waste screenings from grain elevators, at present dumped in the lake and lost to useful trade. He has already obtained permission through his agent G. R. Duncan, to use the old Government freight sheds on the river front in mid-city with a rider from A. E. Warren that the city's consent be first obtained for the matter. He broached to the City Council, however, loud opposition was voiced, and every objection was raised at the promoters' heads by the Aldermen opposing the scheme. Councillors favoring the industry as an experiment contended that an odor accompanying blating industry was not harmful to any ambitious city. They wanted the whole subject of smells as applying to health and comfort turned over to the Board of Health for report, but put to a vote the proposition was rejected, and the sheep-finning industry must seek other quarters far removed from habitation. Opinion is varied among citizens generally as to the wisdom of the council's move, some of them pointing out that objections which apply to a goat are not necessarily attached to the person of a lamb. It is also reminded that as the prevailing winds are westerly, stench, if any, arising in the course of operations, would be blown into the lake and hurt nobody. While the Council's ruling appears to close the case, discussion of sheep fumes still runs high. And the economical ones are especially attracted by an industry which would cost Fort William but a scent, if that.

ORPHANAGE FAIR.

It was another very successful night at the Protestant Orphanage Fair in St. Andrew's rink yesterday and the attendance was almost as great as on the record days last week. This evening is the wind up of the fair and all goods on hand will be disposed of. It is hoped that the objective of $10,000 will have been reached when all the accounts have been wound up but the expenses in connection with the fair have been heavy. The games had a large patronage last night. The door prize, a ton of coal, was won by Miss Cole, of 176 Charlotte street, with tickets 11,109. Among other prize winners were: Roy Campbell, bean toss; A. Quilty, air gun and S. Ruby, devil among the tailors.

Y. M. C. I. GIRLS' PARTY.

The Y. M. C. I. high school girls' class held a Halloween party at the Y. M. C. I. last evening. Games were played and a musical entertainment held. Refreshments were served. The chaplains were Mrs. H. J. Sheehan, Mrs. S. Clarke, Miss Marie Dolan and Miss A. McGuigan. On Wednesday evening the primary school girls' class at the Y. M. C. I. had a Halloween party. The ladies in charge on that occasion were Mrs. H. J. Sheehan, Mrs. W. Donahue, Mrs. J. J. McDonald, Miss Helen Flood, Miss Eileen O'Regan and Miss Eleanor Tapley.

McClary's

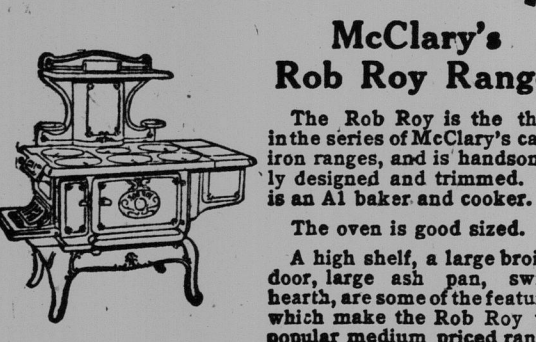

Cast Iron Ranges and Stoves

NO MATTER what your stove or range need may be, there is a McClary's that will fill it—will give the service, be it light for a small family, or heavy and exacting for a big household.

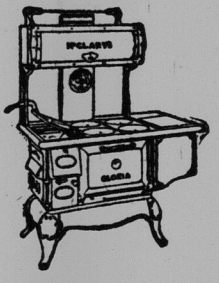

Whether your purse demands a range at an economical price with efficiency and durability, or whether you demand a range of the highest development with every refinement which seventy years' experience can suggest—you can get what you want in McClary's series of high-class stoves and ranges.

In the McClary's series of cast-iron ranges there is a range for every kind of service ever demanded of a range, and that service McClary's guarantee the range to perform.

McClary's Rob Roy Range

The Rob Roy is the third in the series of McClary's cast-iron ranges, and is handsomely designed and trimmed. It is an all baker and cooker. The oven is good sized. A high shelf, a large broiler door, large ash pan, swing hearth, are some of the features which make the Rob Roy the popular medium priced range.

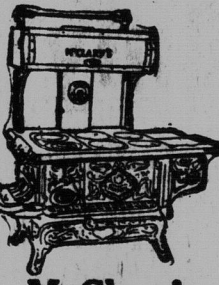

McClary's Gloria Range

The Gloria Range is a well-constructed, practical and efficient range, built with a view to secure economy in price while, at the same time, maintaining the McClary's reputation for efficiency. The Gloria is a medium sized range, with an oven 18 inches square by 11 inches high. The fire box is properly proportioned to the oven, and the fine arrangement assures the greatest economy of fuel by putting to use all the heat generated. The Gloria has a burnished top easily cleaned, and has many features designed for the easy management of the range.

McClary's Casroy

At the price for which the Casroy is sold no one needs to be without a good stove. It is built as carefully as the Pandora or any other of McClary's product. The Casroy has 4 cooking holes, a roomy, reliable oven, nickel-plated towel bar, knobs, etc. A generous sized reservoir gives a good supply of hot water. The Casroy is a fine stove at a price to meet the modest purse.

McClary's Pandora Range

No range we have ever built has won its way to the hearts of housewives as has the Pandora. Absolutely reliable all the time; economical of fuel, easy to manage; handsome in appearance, it is truly a housewife's friend.

Made of heavy cast-iron; sectional fire box; triple grates which are easily rocked because only one at a time is shaken; large ash pan, double heat circulation, oven ventilated and made with nickel-plated steel walls, equipped with wire meshed glass oven door and thermometer if desired—You cannot think of a feature you would want in a range that is lacking in the Pandora. The Pandora range is made in six sizes.
